NO. 295—SIXTY-FOURTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1922 — TWENTY PAGES

AMERIAN LABOR TO STAND ALOOF

Unwilling to Commit Themselves to International General Strike in Case of Declaration of War

REJECT INVITATION TO ANTI-WAR CONFERENCE

Advanced Terms Adopted by International Federation of Trades Unions at Rome Reason for Decision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—An invitation to participate with the International Federation of Trades Unions in a general Labor Anti-War Conference at The Hague, December 10, was rejected today by President Gompers and the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

To Mr. J. H. Thomas, of the British labor organizations, who is president of the International Federation, Americen organisation authorized a response declaring the unwillingness of labor unions in the United States to commit themselves to an international general strike in case of any declaration of war, whether defensive or not, to renunciate national entity, to seek "nationalisation of wealth," or to enter a gathering where the tread of discussion had been set down in advence.

Too Advanced Terms

Originally it seemed possible, the American Federation letter said, for the labor organisations of the United States to participate in the proposed peace congress with unions of other nations, but resolutions of the International Federation of Trades Unions adopted at Rome had laid down such advanced terms that no association could be attempted. Devoted as it has been to the general cause of peace, it was declared, the Americen Federetion could not seek to further such cause in a meeting "committed in advence to proposals not only lacking in constructive character, but which may easily be of themselves a most serious menace to the cause of freedom."

Mr. Gompers, the eight vice-presidents of the federation, and Frank Morrison, its secretery, signed the communication, an identical copy of which was forwarded to the British Trades Union Congress.

LABOR CELEBRATES

VICTORY MEETING HELD TO MARK ELECTION SUCCESS

Rt. Hon. J. R. Clynes Gives Enthusiastic Reception—Will Support Mr. Ramsay Macdonald

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Scenes of great enthusiasm characterized the victory meeting of the organized Independent Labor Party in London tonight to celebrate the return of Labor members to parliament.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, the newly appointed leader of the Labor party, was absent, owing to throat trouble, but in the course of a letter sent to the meeting, said that the Laborites would oppose the government in the House, not as a small-minded faction, but as a body of men in possession of principles and policies which they believed would serve the interests of the nation far better than those possessed by the gentlemen on the benches opposite to them.

Cheer Deputy Leader

Subsequently, when the chairman mentioned the name of the Rt. Hon. J. R. Clynes as deputy leader of the Labor party, the audience rose en masse and cheered and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mr. Clynes said he desired to give Mr. Macdonald, as leader of the party, all the support he could in the arduous task undertaken.

MINISTER ADVISES TIME TO TAKE STAND

Hon. E. B. Barrow Gives Statistics Relative to Oriental Encroachments in Farming Lines

On the resolution presented by Capt. Ian Mackenzie, Liberal member for Vancouver, seeking an appeal to Ottawa for an emendment to the B. N. A. Act designed to grant to this Province the right to prohibit Orientals holding lands or securing employment in the industries of the Province, Hon. E. D. Barrow, in the Legislature yesterday, continued the debate. He quoted extensively figures to show the manner which the yellow race had encroached in the Province, and he held it was about time the Province took a stand on this important matter.

Hon. Mr. Barrow stated that two years ago the Department of Agriculture had ordered a survey to acquire data for the Imperial Conference at London in June, 1921, which showed that 14,050 acres were owned and 12,868 acres were leased to Jap-

EXTEND DATE OF CHEST CAMPAIGN

COMMUNITY DRIVE WORKERS ARRANGE NEW PLANS

Col. Lorne Ross Reports $12,875 Has Thus Far Been Subscribed—Determined Effort to Follow

Renewed efforts to raise the sum of $36,000 in support of local charitable and community welfare organizations for the next twelve months will be made under plans formed at last night's meeting of the canvassers and collectors for the Community Chest. This gathering favored the drive being continued for another week, to terminate on Saturday night, December 2, and that Messrs. P. A. Rayner, Laurie Edwards and Ernie Down be appointed to assist Colonel Lorne Ross in the campaign office.

Colonel Lorne Ross, the campaign secretary, informed the meeting that 14 out of 169 men who are canvassing Victoria on behalf of the Community Chest had made their returns, and thus far the sum of $12,875 had been subscribed. This means that $73,725 has yet to be secured if the objective of the Community Chest is to be attained. Directors of the Chest will meet this morning, when arrangements for a successful push "over the top" will be made.

The secretary announced that 27 teams, and six special teams, each containing eight men, were organized and are busy canvassing the city. The Gyros are guided by Mr. Jack Clay, Mr. Mark W. Grehem has charge of the Kiwanian collectors, while the Rotary Club members are superintended by General R. P. Clerk and J. D. O'Connell.

General Clerk suggested that the Community Chest drive be postponed until January 15, but this met with little support. The majority present believed that the motto "One for All, and All for One" should point the pathway, and that everyone should get in and do his or her level best to make the campaign a big success and raise the amount of money required.

A number of criticisms of the Chest and the amounts allocated to some of the organizations were made, but the points raised were satisfactorily explained to the meeting by the chairmen, J. D. O'Connell, and Colonel Lorne Ross. A number of valuable suggestions were offered. The meeting decided that the drive will go on, and asked for the hearty support and patronage of the citizens and business men of the city.

Yesterday's list of donors to the Community Chest was as follows: R. H. McFadden, Miss D. E. Allan, H. L. Johnston, H. E. Beasley, H. B. Billingsley, S. E. McLimont, B. C. Telephone Co., Hamsterley Farm Products, Ltd., Mrs. L. M. Dunsmuir, R. P. Clark & Co., P. B. Scurrah, Peden Bros., J. T. Redding and A. M. Keechie.

MAKES AUTOISTS VIEW VICTIMS AT MORGUE

Striking Lesson to Drive Home Results of Speeding Given by Detroit Judge—Jail Sentences Follow

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—In the patrol wagon that clanged its gong with the slow regularity of a funeral bell, several men, convicted as automobile speeders, were today taken to the county morgue to view the bodies of the three persons killed by motor cars.

The visit to the morgue was ordered by Judge Charles L. Bartlett. None of the seven had any connection with the mishaps that resulted in the deaths of the persons whose bodies they saw.

At the morgue Judge Bartlett delivered a sharp denunciation of reckless motorists. The seven men then were taken to jail for sentences of from one to ten days besides paying fines ranging from $50 to $100.

PUTS ALL BLAME ON OPPOSITION

Hon. John Oliver Contends That All Ills Under W[illegible] Province Suffers Come F[illegible] Conservative Rule

PREMIER CONTRASTS METHODS OF FINANCING

Government, He Alleges, Has Pursued Careful Course in Carrying On Affairs—Frequent Passages Across Floor

CLAIMING that the present Provincial Liberal Administration has been forced, through the maladministration of its predecessors in office, to carry a burden that had taken all its energy and thought to meet, Premier Oliver, in the Legislature yesterday afternoon continued the Budget debate and replied to some criticisms directed against his government by Opposition members.

It cannot be said that the Premier had anything new to tell the House. In fact his address was practically identical with that given by him last year under similar circumstances. For two and one-half hours the Premier replied to opposition attacks, paid his customary attentions to Mr. W. J. Bowser, Opposition leader, and roundly berated the latter for what, he alleged, were incorrect statements knowingly made.

It was noted, however, that Hon. Mr. Oliver was in a more genial frame of mind than he is wont to display and, at times, his jovial replies to across-the-floor firing, amused the House.

Hed to Increase Taxes

The Premier defended the necessity of the present Government increasing taxation, blaming this upon the late government which had, he averred, left the Province in a deplorable condition; he declared the administration's financial operations had been carried on with the main idea of redounding to the benefit of the people, and he ventured the prediction that Mr. Bowser never need expect that he would once again be at the head of the Government.

"There is too much talk and too little work in this House," declared the Premier in concluding his remarks.

From the standpoint of the public, the Premier's effort must take second place to Mr. Bowser, who spoke on Tuesday to crowded galleries. Yes-

MISSING MILLIONAIRE SAID TO BE IN JAPAN

Passengers Reaching Victoria From Orient Give Reports of Toronto Man Absent Twenty Years

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—Missing a score of years, Mr. Albert Parker, Toronto millionaire, is believed to have been seen in Japan, and is now being sought there, according to passengers reaching Victoria today from the Orient on the steamer President Jefferson.

Mr. Parker is said to have disappeared some twenty years ago when on a fishing cruise off Alaska. The Governor-General of Canada is said to have communicated with the British Embassy at Tokio, whence a request was transmitted to the Japanese Foreign Office regarding the whereabouts of the missing man. The police of Kobe are now trying to locate him.

The Toronto police have no record of Mr. Parker.

Half Million Fire Damage In Nova Scotia

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., Nov. 23.—Upward of half a million dollars, and perhaps more than that amount, is estimated to have been the loss caused by the Sydney fire which last night destroyed three business blocks.

Thousands of dollars' worth of property is represented in the wreck of poles and wires which are spread in ruin at many points throughout Cape Breton tonight. The damage was done by a blizzard, carrying heavy wet snow, which swept over the island, starting yesterday afternoon. The wrecking force of the storm was heavier than has been experienced here for at least fifty years.

CONDEMNS TEXT BOOK ON HISTORY

CANON HINCHLIFFE DESIRES CANADIAN IDEALS TAUGHT

Work Used by the University Lauds Only Part Taken by United States in Great War

That the type of histories being used in the University of British Columbia in the instruction of Canadian youth in the ideals of Canadian citizenship require a change, and that the time has arrived when American publications lauding American men and institutions should be ousted, was asserted in the Legislature last night by Canon Hinchliffe, who, in the budget speech, referred to a "History of Europe," the text book used in the University of British Columbia.

Canon Hinchliffe, referring to Premier Oliver's references during the afternoon to the University problem, agreed with the Premier's attitude that if the Province is to contribute large sums for the upbuilding of that institution it should have some control over such expenditures and, indeed, that control should go further and extend to some extent at least to the education being given there.

The member for Victoria was ready to agree with the Premier that while a university education was a most desirable thing and he would like to see every boy and girl secure it, yet for those who sought to make it a more accomplishment, something to assist them in earning their ordinary livelihood, they should be prepared to contribute towards the cost, which, it had been estimated, was at least $400 per student. The Province, he stated, had no more right to supply a workman with his tools than it had to provide an education for those who would materially profit thereby.

Great War References

He could point to some teaching in the University which should receive the attention of the Minister of Education, declared Canon Hinchliffe, and he referred to the history mentioned above, a copy of which he

MINERS ON STRIKE

REFUSAL OF WAR BONUS CREATES TROUBLE IN ALBERTA

Officials Investigating Incident Which Caused Ninety Men to Lay Off Expect Early Settlement

CALGARY, Nov. 22.—Ninety miners have gone on strike at Mile 52½ and Mile 53½, near Blackstone, according to word received Wednesday at District 18 offices of the United Mine Workers of America here. Refusal of the employers to grant the men their war bonus is said to be the cause of the trouble, which started Tuesday afternoon. District officials are investigating and hope to come to a settlement shortly.

Trouble in the Wayne field at mines of Sheffield and Selkirk, where it is said the operators are refusing recognition of the union, caused Vice-President William Ryan to leave for Wayne Wednesday night, where he will investigate.

HUNGER STRIKER ASKS VISIT FROM SISTER

Miss Mary MacSwiney on Nineteenth Day of Fast Refuses Medical Attention Until Wish Granted

DUBLIN, Nov. 22. — Miss Mary MacSwiney, who has been hunger striking in Mount Joy prison for nineteen days, has declared her intention of refusing attention at the hands of the prison doctor and nurses until her sister Annie is permitted to see her.

Miss Annie MacSwiney has been fasting in front of the prison gates since last Friday in protest against her sister's imprisonment, and the refusal of the prison chaplain to administer the sacrament.

Public Indifferent

A screen has been placed at the gate, hiding Miss Annie MacSwiney and her guards from view.

All day and all night she sits there in an arm chair propped up by mattresses. She is attended by a few women and girls. The situation is not attracting much public attention.

POWERS UNITED AGAINST TURKEY

Claims for Possession of Both Eastern and Western Thrace Opposed by Peace Conference Delegates

BULGARIAN PREMIER ASKS AEGEAN OUTLET

Demilitarization of Considerable Portion of Thracean Dividing Zone to Prevent Conflict Favored

LAUSANNE, Nov. 22.—Turkey found the great powers of Europe arrayed against her today on the question of Western Thrace, on which she demands a plebiscite to decide the sovereignty of, and Greece, helpless and beaten by the armies of Ottoman state, left a rather hot afternoon session of the Near Eastern conference with the feeling that she is not so abandoned as she feared.

Ismet Pasha presented to the commission on military and territorial matters Turkey's claim to all the territory embraced within her frontiers of 1913.

The Turkish plenipotentiaries returned to their hotel looking dejected. One of them said:

"They were all against us on the Thracian issue today, but it is not yet decided; we shall probably have something more to say tomorrow."

Bulgaria Seeks Outlet

The Bulgarian Premier, Alexander Stambouliisky, explained Bulgaria's necessity to have an outlet to the Aegean Sea at Dedeagatch, already promised by treaty. Greece has admitted her obligation to grant Bulgaria port rights at Dedeagatch, but has explained that her war with Turkey prevented its realization. He was inclined to support the idea of making Western Thrace autonomous, but the trend of the Allied leaders' speeches was opposed to this.

Remove Danger

While hostile to a plebiscite, the Entente spokesmen favored demilitarization of a considerable zone on the right bank of the Maritsa River, which divides Western from Eastern Thrace, so that danger of an armed conflict between the Greeks and the Turks in the future would be lessened.

The former Grecian Premier, M. Eluthorios Venizelos, was at his best in defence of the interests of his country. He frankly admitted that Greece had made mistakes, and added that she had suffered severely as a consequence as a result of these mistakes.

The burden of the Turks' arguments was that possession of Eastern and Western Thrace was necessary to make Constantinople safe for Turkey and prevent incursions into Turkish territory.

Lord Curzon, Mr. A. Berrere and Marquis Garroni spoke respectively for England, France and Italy. The American delegates did not participate in the discussions as they deemed the question did not directly concern the United States.

The Threcian problem will be attacked again tomorrow by Ismet Pashe.

Russian Arrives

The arrivel of M. Vorovisky, the Russian commissary at Rome, indicates that Bolsheviki Russia has accepted the invitation to come to Lausanne and discuss the problem of the Dardanelles. It is reported that M. Christian Rekovsky, president of the Ukraine Soviet Republic, and M. Tchitcherin, Russian Soviet Minister will also come here.

HASTEN IRISH BILL

FOLLOWING KING'S SPEECH, DEBATE TO BE INTERRUPTED

Every Expectation Bill Will Be Law by December 6—Arrangements Would Lapse Otherwise

LONDON, Nov. 22.—It is now definitely arranged that the debate on the address in reply to the King's speech will be interrupted in order to allow the speedy passage of the Irish constitution bill.

The debate begins tomorrow and will be continued on Friday. It will then be carried over until Thursday of next week. The three intervening days will thus be given for the passage of the Irish bill through the House of Commons. It will reach the House of Lords on Wednesday night or Thursday.

By December 6

Discussion in the House of Lords is predicted to take some time, but there is every expectation that the bill will be law by December 6th, the date when all provisional arrangements would lapse and absolute chaos ensue if the Free State Government was not in possession of its full constitutional powers.

Mr. Lloyd George's review of the political situation has created much comment in political circles, and the possibility of a rapprochement between the National Liberals and Independent Liberals is being eagerly discussed. It seems probable, however, that there may be no overt developments for some time.

There was a full meeting of all National Liberal ex-ministers, including Sir Homar Greenwood and Mr. Winston Churchill at National Liberal headquarters this afternoon.

Lloyd George presided at the meeting, which lasted three hours. The future policy of the party and its relation to other parties and groups was discussed.

Mr. Lloyd George will address his supporters in the committee room of the House tomorrow afternoon

Cattle Pool Will Help Industry In Canada West

CALGARY, Nov. 22. — Endorsement of the plan for sorting and marketing cattle in a pool, as recommended by the United Greingrowers, Limited, was made at a meeting of more than 250 representative cattlemen from Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, in Calgary Wednesday afternoon. The vote on the question was unanimous, the delegates, in the lengthy discussion preceding the voting, taking the stand that a pool for marketing cattle is necessary if the cattle industry in the Canadian West is to prosper.

If Sacraments Refused Miss MacSwiney, It Is on This Account Says Cork Divine

CORK, Nov. 22.—Bishop Cohalan, preaching in the cathedral, end alluding to Miss Mery MacSwiney, characterized her "hunger strike unto death" as self murder, and a grave violation of the fifth commendment, and declared "If the sacraments have been refused her it is on this account."

CITY'S TAXATION THEORIES AIRED

ALDERMEN CLASH BEFORE PRIVATE BILLS COMMITTEE

Mr. H. B. Robertson Will Present B.C. Electric's Protest Today Against Victoria's Amendments

The request of the city in its private bill for power to levy a business tax on rental values was the cause of a prolonged argument in the committee session yesterday morning when Aldermen Leeming and Alderman Woodward clashed on the subject of single tax.

For nearly an hour the discussion raged. It was but a repetition of the arguments which have graced City Council sessions for the past several months, and at its conclusion neither alderman was convinced.

The discussion arose when Mr. H. B. Robertson, K.C., appearing for the B. C. Electric Company, inquired of City Solicitor Pringle just how far the city proposed to go. In the end Mr. Robertson requested that he be permitted to appear before the committee this morning, when, he stated,

ALLIED FORCES, ROCK MARKED DANGEROUS

Turks May Wreck Themselves by Any Further Encroachments Commander Herington States

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22.—Lieut.-Gen. Harington, commander of the Allied forces, has issued a stern warning to the Kemalists that any further encroachments upon Constantinople would be at their peril. Addressing a large gathering assembled to witness boxing bouts between British soldiers and sailors at the auditorium of the British headquarters, he declared that the Allied forces in Constantinople were a rock marked "dengerous," upon which the Turks would wreck themselves if they persisted in trying the patience of the Allies.

"The Allies are very conciliatory and very patient," he said. "They have exercised great forbearance and restraint."

Human Nature's Limit

"Our ministers have gone to Lausenne with the same spirit of conciliation, justice and fairness. They are, however, human, and there is a limit to human nature. Those who try to exceed that limit play with fire. They would be well advised by the referee to break away."

It is understood that the decision of the National Assembly at Angora to replace Rafet Pasha as military governor of Constentinople was taken for three reasons.

The first wes that the Assembly took exception to certain of Rafet's speeches; second, he was considered as showing a too conciliatory attitude in his relations with the Allied generals here; and last, the Nationalists disapproved of his remarks to the effect that native Christians would be unwise to leave Constantinople.

On the latter count the view in Angora is said to be that the more Christians leaving voluntarily, the fewer there will be to expel later.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT

Bill Introduced in the Legislature Seeks Consolidation in the Cowichan District

An act to ratify an agreement between the City of Duncen, the Municipality of North Cowichan, and the Board of School Trustees of the City of Duncan district, was introduced in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. Kenneth Duncen, Independent member for Cowichen.

Mr. Fred Anderson, Kamloops, who raised the question as to whether this came under the nature of a private bill, adjourned the debate.

In explaining the bill, Mr. Duncen stated that the two municipalities agreed on a consolidated school district, but that they did not want to take in the whole area as required by the act. The result was that the agreement was cumbersome, but that the Education Department, rather than have such a measure inserted in the School Act, was willing that the act be kept separate.

CRITICIZES EX-PREMIER ON SEVERAL POINTS

Finds Statements Made in Special Cable From Pen of Little Welshman Astonishing for Old Campaigner

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—An editorial in The Times today says:

"The special cable which The Times prints today from the pen of Mr. Lloyd George contains his mature analysis of the British election returns. He seems to find equal satisfaction and apprehension in the fact that the Conservatives come into power as a minority party. They polled only about two-fifths of the popular vote. Yet they have a majority of something like 80 in the House of Commons. This result, Mr. Lloyd George considers an anomaly and a reproach under a representative form of government. But what would he have done under a system where a plurality elects, minority governments in his sense, are bound to exist now and then.

Minority Presidents

"Lincoln was a minority president in 1860. So was Woodrow Wilson in 1916. In 1912 Mr. Lloyd George's government had, to be sure, a majority of the popular vote, but got a representation in the House of Commons out of all proportion to its numerical support at the polls.

"If the theory of representative government which he now seems to hold had been applied to the Labor Party four years ago, the letter would have been entitled to double the number of seats which it actually won.

"Mr. Lloyd George declares that parliament ought to at once set to bring about an electoral system under which minority at the polls may secure a majority in the House. Does he mean proportional representation? He does not say. Apparently he has in mind only some sort of rearrangement of the constituencies, but under the present law they are

VANCOUVER COMMISSION HEARS CHARGES OF MISCONDUCT

Women Alleges Unjust Arrest on Eve of Lecture Tour—Men Charge Ill-Treatment in Cells

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22.—While the Vancouver police commission in extraordinary session today were hearing charges against the police force of rough handling of prisoners, a Mrs. James O'Brien rose in the public gallery and demended that she be heard. Chief of Police Anderson and other members of the force, she said, last October had wrongfully charged her with being a drug addict and a distributor of drugs. She was prepared to prove that she had not touched drugs for twelve years, and the alleged slander had been brought against her just as she was preparing to tour British Columbia speaking against Asiatic immigration and the drug menace. Her tour had to be abandoned.

Organized Protests

Members of Vancouver's women's organizations opposed the commission's ruling that Mrs. O'Brien must take her grievance to civil court. In spite of the ladies' protests the commission declined to hear any more.

Several men, who admitted cause for arrest, today testified that they had been ill-treated in the cells. The hearing is progressing.

A motion petitioning the Ottawa Government to re-enact the anti-dumping clause in respect to fruit entering Canada, wes moved in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Col. Fred Lister, Conservative member for Kaslo, which includes the soldier area of Creston, of which he was formerly superintendent.

Col. Lister made a request that the matter be kept out of politics, and he wanted to hear from other members of the House their views on the serious situation which now confronts the growers, especially in the Okanagan and Kootenay districts.

The member for Kaslo, in introducing his motion, referred to the action taken at the last sitting of the Federal House at Ottawa, which rescinded the anti-dumping clause, prohibiting fruit from the American

BLAMES PROHIBITION FOR CRIME INCREASE

Anti-Volstead Head in United States Points to Increase in Number of Prisoners

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Statistics issued today by the Census Bureau showing increases in the number of prisoners in State and Federal institutions since the "wet" year 1917, reveal that the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act have not been deterrent to crime, W. H. Slayton, founder and head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, declared today.

Information gathered, he added, "proved conclusively that the crime increase noted in the Government report is attributable to the drastic prohibition legislation through the demonetrated fact that the largest percentages of increases are directly due to arrests and sentences for causes arising from the use of intoxicants, with the main increase occurring in the so-called prohibition period of 1920-22."

Convictions Increasing

Convictions under the Federal prohibition laws, Mr. Slayton declared, "are known to be not only widespread, but to be increasing at a progressively alarming rate."

The statistics, he said, answer "both the stock argument of the Anti-Saloon League" that prohibition would empty the jails, and its later challenge of the significance of the figures adduced by our association in 1921 comparing crime data for that and the previous years.

GEORGIA WOMAN WAS SENATOR FOR A DAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The first American woman senator, Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Georgia, closed her senatorial career today after answering once to her name and making a brief address amid applause of senators and spectators.

Her successor, Walker F. George, then was sworn in, and Mrs. Felton became a former senator after an actual service of twenty-two hours and twenty-five minutes.

SHAREHOLDERS TO ASK GOVERNMENT OFFER

Compassionate Allowance to Grand Trunk Shareholders Is Advocated by London Times

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The committee of the Grand Trunk Railway shareholders, which has been considering the Privy Council's dismissal of the appeal against the arbitrators' award, announces that it has met and been advised that in consequence of the judgment of the Privy Council no further legal action can be taken to obtain compensation from the Canadian Government. The committee has decided to memorialise the Canadian Government, urging the Government to take into its consideration the equitable claims of the Grand Trunk stockholders.

The Times says if the Canadian Government could see its way clear to make an offer of "compassionate allowance" its credit would not suffer.

FIVE YEARS' SALMON BAN TO BE DELAYED

Not Effective in 1923, Announces Director of Fisheries—Reduction of 300 in Japanese Licences

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—The recommendation of the fisheries commission that sockeye salmon fishing on the Fraser River in British Columbia be closed for five years will not be made effective in the 1923 season, it was stated today by W. A. Found, Director of Fisheries in the Marine Department.

The recommendation of the commission in regard to sockeye fishing in the Fraser was not unanimous, two of the commissioners dissenting, and was contingent upon Americans following a similar course on Puget Sound. Furthermore, it is stated at the Marine Department, advance preparations for next year's fishing on the Fraser are now being made.

Japanese Licences

The number of Japanese licences issued in 1922 was 3,616, a reduction of 300 from the previous year. If the 40 per cent reduction recommended by the Duff Commission is put into effect, the number of licences held by Japanese will be reduced by 1,045.

Twenty-Five Hundred Drunken Chickens Lead Dry Officers to Stills

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Hilarity in a poultry yard, where 2,500 fowls were said to be drunk, resulted in the arrest of O. S. Stegiatt, of Cudahy, a suburb, on charges of violation of the Volstead Act.

Neighbors sent calls to the police that "something awful" was "going on" in Stegiatt's poultry yard. The officers quickly responded and they later declared they saw 300 geese fighting, 200 ducks dashing madly over the surface of a small pond and 2,000 chickens either lying on their backs, skimming with outstretched wings about the yard or siding with the geese in their battles.

The officers pronounced the fowls drunk and stated that they found evidence that they had been partaking of sour mash. They confiscated three stills, 100 gallons of liquor and several barrels of mash. Stegiatt was put in the county jail in default of $2,000 bonds.

CHICAGO BANDITS GET VALUABLE MAIL

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Armed bandits early today held up and robbed a postoffice motor truck carrying air mail matter to Checkerboard Flying Field for transfer to a mail plane, kidnapped the truck driver and escaped.

Police and postal inspectors were informed of the robbery and kidnapping and started on the trail of the truck.

William Hogan, driver of the mail truck, was kidnapped and in his absence many of the details of the robbery were lacking.

Hogan, however, turned up later on the North Side, several miles from the holdup, and reported that the bandits had dumped him out and escaped with the truck containing 450 pounds of air mail, mostly registered mail of the highest class.

ON "HUNGER STRIKE" TO WIN HUSBAND BACK

SKOWHEGAN, Maine, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Louise C. Britton, of this place, now is in the second week of a "hunger strike" undertaken, she has announced, in the hope of winning back the affections of her husband who has brought suit for divorce. Neighbors, who called today at the farmhouse where the woman lives alone, said the strain of hunger was becoming apparent in her appearance.

The husband, who lives on an adjoining farm, refused to discuss his wife's action.

Two Are Drowned

BELLINGHAM, Nov. 22.—Everett Markwood, 23, of Lummi Island, and Alvin Showers, 21, of Mountain View, were drowned late yesterday when a canoe in which they were attempting to cross Hale's Pass, between Lummi Island and the Mainland, was capsized.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY SKIN

Irritation and Breaking Out Often Healed Over Night, Says Skin Specialist

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream. (Advt.)

ILLEGAL USURPATION, PROTESTS DE VALERA

Decrees Free State Government Courts Suppressed—Charges "Rebellion Against Republic"

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—A Republican proclamation issued and signed by Eamonn de Valera as president, and P. J. Rutledge as Minister of Home Affairs, accuses the Free State Government of "pursuing rebellion against the Republic, endeavoring to re-establish the old British courts and trying to set up a system of district courts in twenty-six counties to supercede Republican courts."

"Whereas these British courts, whether in their old form or their new disguise, are illegal usurpation of authority, infringement of the sovereign independence of the Irish people and a danger to the Republic," the proclamation says.

Enemy to Republic

It is decreed by the Government of the Republic that all their courts "purporting to exercise jurisdiction within the territory of the Republic, whether known by the name of King's Court or District Court, are hereby suppressed."

The proclamation declares that anyone taking any part in such courts without the sanction of the Republican Government will be deemed an enemy of the "Republic."

SCORES U.S. BANKERS FOR NERVOUS POLICY

Great Britain, France and Japan Invest in China, Says Attache, While America Holds Out

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Operation of the international consortium intended to stabilise China's trade and finance is being held up through the apathy of American bankers and their desire for better security than is apparent, Mr. Julean Arnold, commercial attache of the American legation at Peking, told a Chamber of Commerce gathering here today.

"The American banks are waiting for China to become more centralized and unified before participating," Arnold said.

A Wrong Attitude

"That is the wrong attitude and contrary to the usual American business policy. In effect we are saying to China, 'go and help yourself,' but but we do not give her the wherewithal to achieve that self help.

"Great Britain, Japan and France have evidenced their willingness to participate. They know what they are doing. Why are we afraid to take a chance?

Trade Follows Loan

"It has been proven that trade follows the loan. Great Britain, Japan and France are better situated in China from a standpoint of capital than the United States, because the financial interests of these countries are not afraid to invest in that country. More American investments are needed."

The mutual international interest in the consortium has halted to a great extent the "scramble for concessions" in China, Mr. Arnold said.

NEW CONSTITUTION SOUGHT BY RHODESIA

Political Parties Prepare for Election —Union Advocates Will Contest Every Seat

SALISBURY, Rhodesia, Nov. 22.—The desire for an early grant of a new constitution for Rhodesia is growing steadily. The Union Association's resolution of November 19 to continue its efforts to secure amalgamation of Rhodesia with the Union of South Africa confirms the impression that the political parties are preparing for a general election. It is declared that the advocates of union are intending to contest every seat.

A conference of the responsible government association will be held next week to consolidate the forces and frame a future policy.

Labor is also being organized into a distinct party. It is understood that conversations have taken place between Sir Charles Coghlan, leader of the responsible government advocates, and representatives of the Labor party, and an agreement appears to have been reached whereby the two parties will not oppose one another in certain seats in the hope of thus ousting the Union forces.

ITALIAN PREMIER IS FRIENDLY TO VATICAN

Final Step Towards Official Reconciliation Between Church and State is Anticipated

ROME, Nov. 22.—The cordial attitude of Benito Mussolini, the Fascisti Premier of Italy, toward the Vatican has been shown recently in his speeches, including that delivered when presenting his Cabinet to Parliament.

This fact has caused rumors to circulate that Mussolini may propose to King Victor Emmanuel that the monarch appoint two Cardinals as senators of the kingdom, namely, Cardinal Maffi, the learned Archbishop of Pisa, who was one of the foremost candidates for the Papal crown last January, and is a personal friend of the reigning family, and Cardinal Endrici, Prince Bishop of Trent, who, when Trent was under Austrian rule, suffered because of his patriotism.

Should Mussolini succeed in having two cardinals appointed to the Senate it is felt here that this would be the final step toward official reconciliation between Church and State in Italy, which practically already exists

THREATENS LIFE OF FRENCH WAR PREMIER

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The police escort assigned to Georges Clemenceau during his stay in this city was doubled this afternoon when the tiger received a letter threatening his life, signed "a world war veteran."

EXPLODES MYTH OF FRENCH MILITARISM

Statesman Writes With Characteristic Vigor of German Aggressions During Long Period, Finally Culminating in Most Terrible and Devastating War in World's History

By Georges Clemenceau

FRANCE emerged from the war of 1870 grievously wounded and adrift. She had until then blindly obeyed the personal and chimerical policies of Napoleon III. She had followed the monarch to the Crimea and to Mexico. This long succession of errors came to a head at Sedan.

The empire was thrown to the ground not only for having choked all freedom of opinion, for having refused the nation the right to express its will, but, also and above all, because of the policy of adventure which had, in twenty years, cost us four wars and which had ended in catastrophe. The Republicans had two objectives, to save France and to give her a peace, enabling her to live and survive and to work.

We were obliged to put our signature beneath the Treaty of Frankfort. We honored that signature. The pact tore two provinces from us, part of our very flesh. Without doubt not a single French heart ever consented to consider as legitimate such a mutilation or ever continued to beat but in sympathy for Alsace and Lorraine, but we neither desired nor prepared a war of revenge, which, however satisfying and glorious it might have developed, would have appeared to the world as a crime against humanity. For fifty years we suffered cruelly the loss of two provinces whose hearts had remained so true to us. We never depended on anything else for reparation for the crime committed than upon the reign of international justice. Thus only could be re-established what Bismarck had shattered.

We scrupulously executed the Treaty of Frankfort. We sought to dodge none of its obligations. If, after fifty years of German occupation, we found Alsace and Lorraine still so French; if Germany during fifty years of attempted conquest of Alsace and Lorraine hearts only met with check upon check, that fact was due to German stupidity and brutality of method and to the unswerving and disinterested devotion of Alsace and Lorraine to France.

Fruitful Period

The Republic was the issue of our misfortune. It was born of desire for peace. One of our first tasks after the war of 1870 was the elaboration of the constitution of 1875, which had as its main purpose the freeing of the French people that it might thereafter work out its own destiny. The nation itself, speaking through its representatives, should henceforth decide upon war or peace. No war was to be possible unless willed by the majority of the nation. France desired peace, and during peace, work. No period in our history proved more fertile than those separating the wars of 1870 and 1914. On the very morrow of our disasters, our commerce and industry began to revive. In the intellectual field, in the domain of science, of art, of letters, no epoch in our national history was ever so fruitful. France depended body and soul upon the worker. France resolutely abstained from all projects of revenge. She required some outlet for those characteristics of a great nation, moral and material, that had sustained her through a history of sanguinary ordeal. She found a cross on the sea. The work of colonization undertaken by France in Africa and in Asia had the effect of deflecting the nation's mind from the gaping wound in its side and of opening up a new field of economic endeavor and activity.

While France thus labored peacefully on, Germany, under the fist of Bismarck and his successors, pursued her wild dreams of overlordship. The Treaty of Frankfort once signed, it dawned upon her that France was not dead, and was actually following up her destiny. Germany thereupon determined to complete her work of world violence. Eight times between 1870 and 1914 she attempted to relight the fire. In 1875 the intervention of the Czar of Russia, backed by England, was necessary in order to prevent Bismarck from repeating his crime. In April, 1887, Schnoebele, Commissary of Police at Pagny, on the Moselle, fell into an ambush. Europe was roused by this provocation, and Bismarck was obliged to release his prisoner.

National Bully

In November of the same year there followed fresh threats and provocation. Bismarck, "thanked" and dismissed by his master, nevertheless left as a legacy to his successors his principles and methods. In March, 1905, on the morrow of the disaster of Mukden, and thinking our Russian friends harmless and out of the picture, William II. indulged in the theatrical provocation of Tangiers. In June the German menace became so intense that the French government was obliged to dismiss its Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, in response to demands from Berlin. In 1906 Germany bullied us at Algeciras, where we were trying to benefit by the good offices of the American government. In 1908 she sought a quarrel with us in Morocco over three deserters from the foreign legion. In 1908 Austria, backed and even pushed by Germany, seized Bosnia and Herzegovina.

We came within an ace at that time of the long war from which we have recently emerged. In 1911 the German war vessel Panther dropped anchor before Agadir. To this new provocation France, more than ever devoted to peace, to a peace which, alas! had come to be composed but of humiliations and concessions, replied by abandoning part of the Congo to Germany. The author of these lines was not responsible for that. Intimidation, demonstration of force, nothing, during these forty-four years, was spared us. France was under the perpetual menace of German cannon. Bismarck had in 1875 seen two countries, Russia and Great Britain, coming to our side. Against France therefore he decided to create a group, assuring him mastery of Europe. On October 7, 1879, he signed the treaty with Austria-Hungary; on May 10, 1882, the treaty with Italy. The triple alliance was complete. Germany was at the head of 17,000,000 men who, from the North Sea to Mediterranean, cut Europe in two, commanded all the lines of communicatio and imposed their will. Germany had become the centre of Europe and employed her neighbors against that country which she had ever regretted having let survive after 1871.

Simultaneously the military strength of Germany grew to formidable proportions. In troops, material and munitions, the armed camp across the Vosges became the most powerful in history. France, held back by its feeble birthrate and by an opposition refusing to see the danger ahead, followed a long way behind. Each of her defensive moves was, however, received in Germany with general indignation. It is France which is the provocative force; it is she who dreams of re-establishing her domination by blood and iron; she is responsible for the directing of manual labor into the forcing of instruments of death, for the fact that military budgets held back the application of social laws for the betterment of the working classes. The national state of mind in Germany had become monstrously out of focus. A form of Nietzschean mysticism had descended upon the entire nation. Universities, schools, newspapers, books, all did nothing but exalt "Deutschland Uber Alles," Germany, created by God to bring its particular form of civilisation to the world in general, under the Aegis, naturally, of the Hohenzollerns and of all the big and little Junkers of Saxony, Bavaria and Prussia. The world reproached them for their barbarity, but they were merely proud of it. They pretended to represent the primitive virtue of the young and strong races in corrupt old Europe. They had their own god, in their image—the old German god. They had their science, their art. They were like an immense tribe of those Teutons who, two thousand years before, by blood and iron, had sought to regenerate the world in the destroying of it.

Beast Springs

When the war of 1914 was inflicted upon us by the German aggression, France received the conflict with religious emotion, and, trembling with despair, Germany saw red. Not a German but shouted "Hoch," as if the burden of peace had suffocated him all too long. Noblemen, workmen, savants, bureaucrats, even Socialists, threw themselves into the combat with fury, prepared to throw their life, their honor, their science, into the cauldron. Germany threw what remained of her honor into the holocaust when she violated Belgium. The German savants cried "bravo." Beneath the doctor, scientist and the philosopher, there lurked the beast of prey to whom all means to an end were justified. At the outbreak of the war of 1914 Germany was ready, her full force mobilized, her plans made, her powder dry, her weapons sharpened—an incomparable army in numbers, in material and in furious spirit, and trained completely to forget the laws of humanity. Hence the martyrdom of noble and unhappy Belgium and of the French departments in the north and east. The generals of William III had only to repeat on our soil the lessons learned for forty-three years in the German war schools. They executed them faultlessly. But there was one accident—the French soldier, before whom the whole plan collapsed. Germany had been ready. Europe, on the other hand, had been surprised, despite many warnings, and under the guns of the enemy had feverishly yet slowly to build up its effectives and war material. Here is what we witnessed in 1914:

Russia tried to hold up the Germans with her unorganized legions, without cannon or munitions. England hastily improvised a national army, and composed at first of five divisions only. Thus did the Allies of France nourish bellicose dreams eight years ago. As for France in 1914, she had no heavy artillery. The German offensive through Belgium left us helpless, overrunning us at Charleroi and causing us to yield an eighth of our territory to the enemy. Forts which proved of no use whatever, methods of combat which utterly failed to meet the attacks of our adversary or the engines of war employed against us. A cruel history, especially when the cause is one day inquired into. That's how France dreamed of war and prepared for it.

Tooth and Claw

The Germany which we had known in peace we recognized again in war—brutal, cynical, inhuman, scorning all laws and pledges, burning those old centres of art which conferred upon Europe so much nobility and beauty, sinking merchant vessels and hospital ships, shooting nursing sisters, bombarding the "fortresses" of Paris and London, killing for the pleasure of killing, massacring, destroying for the joy of destroying and tearing from this planet a measure of its life and happiness. The Cathedral of Rheims burned and ruined; Louvaine, Ypres, Termonde, sacked and reduced to cinders; St. Gervais of Paris bombarded and collapsing upon women

HER HEART SKIPPED EVERY THIRD BEAT

Mrs. James Burleigh, 248 King Street E., Chatham, Ont., writes: "I think it my duty to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me.

"I suffered for years with palpitation of the heart, my nerves were very bad, and I could not be left alone at any time. I doctored for over a year, and the doctor said my heart was very bad as it skipped every third beat.

"I gave up just at this time, and then my mother advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, saying my eldest brother had been relieved by using them when he was very bad with his heart and nerves. I got a box and started to take them, and when I had used it I felt a lot better; could sleep a little and felt stronger. I continued taking them for about three months, and felt better than I had for years.

"When I think of the misery and suffering I went through before I started Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I feel like letting everyone know what they did for me."

PROVINCIAL FINANCES

The analysis of the Provincial Budget by Mr. W. J. Bowser in his contribution to the debate on the subject, contains a good deal of food for thought for the people of this Province. The Conservative leader has a happy faculty for dealing with figures. He is disturbed, equally with the people, over the cost of administration in this Province. He believes a drastic policy of retrenchment could be effected, and with his attitude there should be full agreement. When British Columbia has reached a period when a sum of $20,000,000 is being collected annually in the way of ordinary revenue, it is time that borrowings on capital account should be substantially reduced. The Government now has authority to borrow $11,500,000, and it should exercise caution before introducing a new loan bill in the Legislature. The net debt of the Province is $57,000,000, and there are treasury bills outstanding for over $1,250,000. Inasmuch as a new and lucrative source of revenue has been found in the operation of the Liquor Control legislation, there should be a substantial effort made to avoid borrowing on the scale that has been indulged in for some years past.

Mr. Bowser has voiced a feeling on financial affairs that is entertained by the great majority of the people of British Columbia. This feeling is not peculiar to this Province. It is evident everywhere. It was his announcement of policies of economy, which, as much as anything else, led to Mr. Bonar Law's success at the British polls. In British Columbia development is being held back because so many of the people are kept straining all their efforts to meet taxation obligations. Taxation, when it passes the bearable limit, exercises a bad mental effect. It prevents investment in private enterprise. We say in all candour to the Provincial Government that it is at the present time indulging in a variety of expenditures that could be very well dispensed with, that it has created new officialdom that, in many respects, is only a source of irritation to the people, and that new legislation is serving to accentuate these conditions. We have commended the Government's policy in cutting down certain appropriations for the next fiscal year. Inasmuch, however, as a Provincial election will be held before March 31, 1924, there is more political sagacity than grace in this decision. The people are groaning under taxation imposed by the triple spending authorities—Federal, Provincial and municipal. They are seeking relief in every quarter. The authority which first provides that relief will have sensed the spirit of the times. Mr. Bowser has indicated in a concise way, in some respects, what is the public appreciation of Provincial finances, and the Government of the day will do well to pay heed to his criticism. Its own political future depends upon introducing a policy of drastic retrenchment, and such a policy as will restore confidence among the people.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION

It is within the right of anyone duly qualified to seek election as mayor of this city, and it is also within the right of all those who have such aspirations to estimate, themselves, their chances of election. There are now four candidates in the field for the civic honor, the election for which will be held next month. The number is too great. We hope that by nomination day it will be reduced to one-half. The desire of the people, we believe, is to see a straight fight between two candidates, so that whoever is elected will be assured of having a majority of the votes of those who go to the polls. It is only in that way that the mayor-to-be can be thoroughly representative of the voice of the majority. In civic administration that is a very important thing.

The issues upon which civic candidates will seek election next month are well defined in the minds of the taxpayer. There is the dominant issue of economy, which, in turn, if adopted, will lead to a decrease in taxation. There is the issue of a policy to be decided upon to bring into use properly assessed at over $5,000,000 that has reverted to the city owing to tax sales. There should, too, be policies proposed for encouraging the development of local industries and thus providing a lengthening pay roll. In our estimation that is one of the most important policies of all that is needed. What is wanted, as well, is a redistribution of civic taxation so that some of the burden will be lifted from the property owners. That is a difficult problem unless there is a redistribution of sources of taxation as between the Province and the municipalities, but it is something that should be kept in mind by all candidates who should have definite views in this regard and definite ends towards which to work. These are the main municipal problems which call for a solution. We venture to say that in the public estimation they will dwarf all other issues in the coming campaign.

However beneficial may be the policies advocated by the four mayoralty candidates now in the field it is not certain that any one of them could secure a clear majority over the other three in an election. It would be presumptuous on our part to attempt to influence their decisions, but we do voice a public desire in stating that, where the mayoralty chair is concerned, the taxpayers would prefer to see a straight cut fight between two candidates. It is the duty of any newspaper to make known, as it sees it, what is the popular wish in a matter of this kind. In the circumstances that have arisen it is not desirable that the public mind should be confused by the introduction of too many rival policies. In the aldermanic field and in the contest for School Trustees it is different; the more candidates there are the better the indication that there is a live interest in municipal affairs. We may express the hope that before nomination day the choice for Mayor will be narrowed down to two individuals. As we have said, the issues are well defined, and the public, if we judge them aright, will be well satisfied to choose between two exponents of what are the best methods to be adopted, so far as such methods can be expounded by those with claims on the mayoral chair.

INVESTMENTS

With the stabilizing of exchange will come renewed opportunity of encouraging British investments in this country. Judging by the success of recent issues in London, it seems that there is capital available for all legitimate purposes, and we believe a proportion of that money could be attracted for development purposes in this Province. For some years past a wrong policy has been pursued here and not one for encouragement of British investments in British Columbia. More than once it has been emphasized that our authorities do not seem capable of estimating the importance of such investments, and as a consequence do not provide sufficient safeguards. On the contrary there have been instances, happily rare, where the confidence of financiers and investors generally has been shaken by a tendency on the part of the authorities to jeopardize the stability of British investments in the Dominion. Some idea of this may be gathered from an item appearing under "Stock Exchange Gossip" in a late edition of The Financier, the oldest daily financial paper printed in London. We quote:

I wonder whether Canadian investments will ever regain any of the popularity they enjoyed a few years back? One is constantly hearing of regrettable incidents in the treatment of British investors by Canadian authorities. For instance, a correspondent has just brought under my notice the case of the Canadian Western Gas Company, which seems to have been treated most unfairly by the city of Calgary. Not so long ago the British Columbia Electric Railway was having trouble with the Vancouver municipality, and these are, unfortunately, not isolated instances.

Publicity of this character, and the complaints are well founded, cannot but serve to prevent investors looking towards Canada until such time as there is more favorable treatment here for British investments. Britain remains the chief pathfinder of development. No country has such investments all over the face of the globe. Wherever legitimate treatment for these investments is received and legitimate profits enjoyed, there is a constant flow of capital. Here in British Columbia our present Government has not been at all alive to the importance of securing British capital for investment purposes, and has not pursued the right path of publicity to bring about this desirable result. It has a new policy of conservation to adopt in this respect, and, as well, there is a reputation that must be lived down. Those who seek to promote development of their natural resources cannot do better than offer legitimate opportunities to British capital, and with those opportunities there should be substantial guarantees against hampering legislation.

LAW-BREAKING

The Portland Oregonian is usually tolerant in its views and fair in its criticism. It is, therefore, somewhat surprising to find in such a journal petulant and unreasonable comments on the manner in which the public affairs of this Province are conducted. Concluding an article based upon alleged facts secured from narrow-minded, intolerant and mischievous sources in British Columbia, The Oregonian says: "There will be no change until Great Britain and Canada can be made to see that the United States will not indefinitely tolerate what amounts to official connivance at the general violation of the laws of a friendly country and neighboring Power. It is none of our business if Great Britain or Canada, or any other country, elects to remain wet. But it is clearly our business if they countenance a general conspiracy to break the laws of the United States." The obvious reply to that sort of nonsense is that it is none of our business if the United States chooses to go dry and discovers that the opposition of a very large minority—in some of the States even a majority—of the people renders enforcement of the law next to impossible. British Columbia is not conniving at the violation of United States laws. It is not the fault of our government if lawbreakers from the other side of the line connive with lawbreakers on this side for the purpose of evading the prohibition laws.

A news item says that "local Kiwonians will go to church." Members of such a public-spirited organization will regret any reflection implied that they do not always attend their Sunday devotions.

The Farmers' Institutes of British Columbia are opposed to a policy of wide-open immigration from Central Europe. Evidently they do not believe that such immigrants would be a gain to agriculture in the Province. They are not the only residents who fail to see eye to eye with the Minister of Lands in his plea to "pump them in" irrespective of nationality.

A judge in Montreal has fined a speeding motorist $100 and costs. The punishment is not too severe on anyone who drives to the public danger. There is no more excuse today than there was in the times of horse-drawn traffic for speeding, but the danger to life and limb and property has increased a hundredfold.

The membership of the United Farmers' organization of Ontario has dwindled to one-half of what it was a few years ago. Out of 1,600 farmer clubs which previously existed in that Province only about 200 are now active. The Farmers' Sun, the official organ of the political farmers' party, has suffered a loss of 13,000 in circulation. These figures show that though there is a Farmer's Government in Ontario, the force of the movement is becoming spent in the Province.

Philosophers, like common people, have their moods of depression and gloom. Some of them look at things "through a glass darkly" and then give expression to sentiments that are not calculated to cheer up a world that is sadly in need of something at which to laugh. Thus we have an English philosopher who has cut a better figure as a novelist predicting that the earth is going to perdition; and we notice that a French philosopher, who is no great shakes as a novelist, states that any way the earth is only a clod temporarily warmed into life by a ball of fire, and that in the end it must become even as the moon, a thing without life. On the other hand, an English philosopher, gifted with an imagination which still is one of the wonders of the world, found on the face of this disparaged earth "music in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything." A philosopher of a later date, a creation of the mind of a great novelist, laid it down as a fixed principle that there was no credit in being jolly except under the most depressing circumstances. Mark Tapleys render their neighbors far greater service than apostles of gloom.

The $100 Payment

Sir,—On reading the Mayor's letter in Sunday's Colonist and Alderman Andrew letter of this morning's, I think that the alderman should be publicly thanked for exposing the deal in giving the ratepayers' money after an adverse vote by the Council. If this sort of thing were allowed to go on what protection would the taxpayers have? If a bank clerk or a man in any other public office had done the same thing and given away his employer's money he would most likely have received a jail term.

I also see by this morning's paper that some of the Council are anxious to exempt the Empress Hotel from water and other taxes. They state that the hotel is an asset to the city. So is a house built by an intending resident, yet he is immediately jumped on for improvement taxes and excessive water rate. Why the difference?

Trade With Orient

Sir,—It was with much interest and gratification that I read articles in the press, following up the remarks of Dr. J. W. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner to China, who spoke to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday, in connection with Canada's opportunity of seeking greatness as a manufacturing nation, by taking advantage of the tremendous field now developing in the Orient and Siberia.

Canada will surely take advantage of this enormous field for trade expansion, and as Dr. Ross has suggested, many Eastern Canadian manufacturing establishments will no doubt locate branch factories or even move their whole works to the Pacific coast, for the reason that the long freight haul across the continent would be a serious handicap in competing with American factories already well established on this coast.

As Canada must reach out and demonstrate to the buyers of the Far East that she can make and supply the commodities they wish to buy, so must the British Columbia coast reach out and demonstrate or persuade Eastern Canada, that here is the logical location she must work from, in order to capture that commerce.

Victoria has waited many years for such golden opportunity to offer itself, to get herself established on the map as a commercial city. There is ample room in Victoria and her surrounding municipalities for both tourist and commercial trade. We see the former now getting well established and the latter is knocking at the door; will we open it? I hope so.

The suggestion offered that it is not too soon for municipal councils to debate the question of free sites and a general policy is well taken and this scheme is already a portion of my policy in connection with the mayoralty contest, and I am of the opinion that the Council of 1923 should appoint a special and strong committee early in the year, to make a full study of this question, and push it with all the vigor and pep there is in them, and get in on the ground floor, before our neighbors snatch these plums from under our very noses, while we are thinking about it.

These opportunities do not knock at the door twice, and next year's Council with the citizens behind them, should leave no stone unturned to lay the foundation for a commercial Victoria, the gateway to the Orient.

terday the attendance was comparatively slim.

Mr. Thomas Pearson, Conservative member for Richmond, who adjourned the debate at the afternoon sitting, went on at the night session last evening.

There are still a number of members of the House who desire to have their say in the Budget debate, and it would appear certain that the forensic performance will be continued until the end of the present week at least.

A Weak Argument

Complimenting the Opposition leader on the arrangement of the latter's speech, and admitting the Government expected criticism from the Opposition forces, Premier Oliver held that Mr. Bowser's effort had been a remarkably weak one, that Mr. Bowser had appeared puzzled concerning matters which to most people would appear clear.

The Premier paid considerable attention to the member for Cranbrook (Mr. N. A. Wallinger), who was recently victor over the Liberal candidate at the by-election. He suggested that Mr. Wallinger should be acquainted with public business after his long experience as a member of the Government service; that his remarks upon the ignorance of members of the House in the affairs of Cranbrook riding was not called for and that he (Mr. Wallinger) was now in an excellent position to represent the needs of his constituency to the members.

The Premier called into question the statement of Mr. Wallinger that the roads in that riding had been neglected. He had had the privilege of traveling over some of those roads—at a rate he would not confide to the House—but when one could go from forty to fifty miles an hour there could not be much complaint with the roads.

Mr. J. W. Jones—Was that on the afternoon of the by-election?

The Premier held that the good roads in the Cranbrook riding had been built since the present Government came into power, many of the old trails constructed by the former government having been converted into magnificent highways.

Referring to the request preferred by Mr. Wallinger for a reduction in taxation on the mining industry, the Premier stated he could see no great necessity for such in that particular district for had there not been a Government agent (Mr. Wallinger) there, who took care of the mines, who, when the companies got into arrears, cancelled those arrears and advised them to get some one to restake their properties? Then, too, he took issue with the statement by the member for Cranbrook that civil servants should not be dismissed without reason.

Dismissals

"I have had to concur in the dismissal of public servants and it is not in the public interest that the reasons be given. The statutes provide that civil servants shall hold office at the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, but only when the rule is applied in particular instances was any cry made. He speaks of automatic increases in salaries for civil servants. There is nothing in our statutes to provide for such. Owing largely to the increased cost of living during the war, there has been a thirty per cent increase in salaries of the civil servants. Wages and salaries have not increased within the last year, and while the Government has not seen fit to increase the salaries of the staff, yet it had not subjected them to any decreases similar to decreases in other lines of business. In proportion to service rendered, I know of no better paid class than those in the civil service. We have one hundred applications for every vacancy. If the employment is not congenial or the salaries not attractive, why is there such a rush to get a Government job?" asked the Premier.

"One would imagine," said the Premier, "that the Opposition speaker felt that under no consideration should a Liberal be appointed to a Government position. The former Government had exercised patronage in respect of the service for thirteen years, and he could not call to mind the case of the appointment of a single Liberal. Personally he was ready to continue to give employment to Liberals until a 'balanced service, was secured," he said.

Mr. Bowser—You are doing remarkably well.

Deals With Finances

The Premier had much to say regarding the criticisms voiced by Mr. J. W. Jones, Conservative member for South Okanagan, of the financial operations of the Government and, especially, the increasing taxation. There must be taxation, he held, if the Government was to meet the burden inherited from the former administration. He admitted the people were restive, and he was willing to take his share of the responsibility for the increase in the public debt which had certainly not tended to decrease taxation.

The increase in taxation, he stated, was made in 1917, and its necessity was the financial condition in which the Province was then left. He quoted that from March, 1911, to 1917, six years, the Conservative administration had deficits aggregating $16,868,761, an average yearly deficit of over $3,000,000. During 1912-'13, a banner year for the then Government, $2,300,000 had been received from sales of lands and from timber royalties and licence fees in excess of what they received in revenue in their last year of office. At the time they were disposing of natural assets at a rate of five millions per year they were having deficits, he said. On the eve of the general election in 1916, the Opposition leader, as then head of the Government, brought down a budget, "the only one he ever did or ever will," and it showed an estimated revenue of six millions and estimated expenditures of over eleven millions. The late Premier Brewster had asked in the House what steps would be taken to cover the deficit, and the answer had been: "We are now considering that matter."

More Taxation

"This Government had to increase taxation because the revenue from the land had decreased $2,234,000 per annum; because the revenue from timber licenses had shrunk $979,741; because the aggregate revenue of the Province had shrunk $6,218,522. Another reason for increase in taxation was because public debt charges had increased over $500,000 in three years' time; because the late Government had prepared estimates to provide a deficit of over $5,000,000 and had left office with liabilities accruing of over four millions, and had left no provision wherewith to meet them, except the Loan Bill of 1916 for ten millions.

"I remember he told us that that would not be the first loan bill he expected to put through. Yesterday he told us he had a great heart, and that was why he did not collect arrears—I would call it a gizzard—and I just wondered what his friends, the land speculators who had bought millions of the Crown lands by means of fraudulent powers of attorneys and syndicated them through Europe and the United States and who, under the guise of the Soldiers' Homestead Act passed by him, had their holdings confiscated, would think of that large heart," said the Premier with emphasis.

Referring to the criticism of the Government on the point of its bank overdraft, the Premier recalled the Opposition leader had claimed the late Government had left none when it when out of office. The bank would not let him have it, he said. The bank credit of the present Government was good, he declared, and it had borrowed what it needed, as much as eight millions at a time, a fact which indicated the bank was fully satisfied with the credit of the Government. At no time, he stated, had the bank ever refused to accommodate the Government. But he quoted from a letter, one which had done service in House debates for many years past, to show that when the late Government had sought to float a loan in New York, their agents had written to say that they found it necessary to provide for heavy underwriting commission.

Different Methods

The Premier compared the method of financing of the present Government with the preceding administration to show that whereas the latter issued bonds and deposited the money in the bank, paying commission on the loan and securing three per cent. thereby losing on the negotiation; the present Government arranged an overdraft or a bank advance on treasury bills, paying interest at five or five and one-half per cent, and at no time had interest been paid on overdraft, which would have to be paid on the loans. When market conditions were right, the bonds were floated and the treasury bills repaid. It was a fact, he asserted, that practically nothing had been lost to the Province through that method; rather hundreds of thousands had been been saved to the people.

The Premier quoted more figures to show that the complaints concerning the alleged increase inland and personal property tax were not justified. In 1916-'17 land taxes totalled $532,136; 1921-'22, $995,129, not quite double, and yet in the five years there has been a large increase in land assessment values. As for the personal property tax, in 1916-'17 it brought in $291,412, and in 1921-'22, $625,554. The Government imposed the poll tax, and the total increase in all these three taxes had been $965,416, an increase not sufficient to meet the annual interest charge upon the bonds of the P.G.E. Railway guaranteed by the last Government.

Calls It Comedy

Referring to the Opposition leader's speech of Tuesday as "a comic entertainment," Hon. Mr. Oliver paid further attention to Mr. J. W. Jones, asserting that the Government had done more for the latter's district than Mr. Jones was willing to admit. He disputed the assertion that the population of the Province has decreased, as Mr. Jones had claimed. He quoted to show that the school population of the Province in 1916 had been registered as 64,670; in 1921 it was 85,000, an increase of thirty-five per cent. Further, he disputed the assertion that the present Government's financial operations were keeping capital out of the Province, and to prove it, he stated that in the past month new companies were incorporated in the Province with a capital stock of $3,340,000.

"Those must be hard up for arguments who would use statements such as had the Opposition speakers, the Premier declared. He compared the criticisms of the Opposition leader in 1916 when the latter was urging the Government not to increase taxation, but rather to borrow; today that same member was roundly criticizing the Government for borrowing too much.

"It is amusing to hear him say that we should restore the credit of the Province to where it was in 1916. All I can say is that if he gets the people to return him they will be sorry," said the Premier, who made a comparison between loans floated by the Province and other Provinces to show the favorable rates secured by British Columbia, a rate of 5.43 per cent as compared with 6 per cent for Ontario and 5.49 for Manitoba.

Making Trouble at Merville

Premier Oliver charged the opposition leader and members of his party with going into the Merville area and casting an odium of responsibility on the Government to create an impression that if they were at the head of affairs matters in the set-

Why "Grits" Were Unpopular Here—At a recent political gathering held at Cornwall, Ont., Mr. Mackenzie, leader of the Liberal party, said: "Poor Sir Francis Hincks, driven from Renfrew, driven from Brant, had taken refuge in the far-distant island of Vancouver, where he could lave his wearied feet in the waters of the Pacific. They would not have him at Ottawa; they would not have him in Western Ontario; but it seems that the Indians of Vancouver Island were willing to have him for a representative. So we have a man representative of nobody as the Finance Minister of the Dominion. It is said that there are 1,462 inhabitants in the whole place." The white population of British Columbia is 18,354—at least they are not all white; five hundred of them are negroes and a few Chinese.

Mr. Hunter, M.P.P.—This staunch Independent has twice refused employment from the McCreight Ministry, once declining to survey public lands and again to declining the Surveyor-Generalship of the Province.

Inspector Miller, Chief of Secret Service Branch, Questioned Relative to Dawson Charges

An echo of the charges recently brought by Mr. H. H. Stevens, M.P., against Fred G. Dawson, of Prince Rupert, and now member of the National Railways Board, alleging a shortage of beer from the Dawson warehouse, was heard in the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature, which is still investigating affairs of the Provincial Liquor Control Board. Operations of Liquor Board operatives along the line of the G.T.P. were also touched upon.

Chief Inspector of the Board, Mr. James Miller, was again on the witness stand, and testified relative to allegations that 1,600 barrels of beer had gone astray from the Dawson warehouse. He considered that the charge was exaggerated, and, he said, it had been subsequently discovered that the alleged shortage had been turned over to the Northern Export Company for export.

Prince Rupert Cases

Inspector Miller admitted that Mr. Olie Besner, owner and proprietor of the Northern Export Company, the Knox Hotel and the Fishermen's Club, had met him at the wharf at Prince Rupert, but he denied the suggestion advanced by Mr. Bowser that representations had been made to him to reduce a charge of liquor selling to one of the sale of beer. The export company, he said, had been fined $1,000, and there had been a prosecution against the Marathon Club, operated by Ben Self.

Delegates to Convention

Mr. Bowser commented upon the fact that Besner and Self had been delegates to the Liberal convention at Nelson, and he suggested that it was a coincidence that the pair were the only two convicted of selling beer, while others, who had not been delegates, had been sent to jail.

Mr. A. D. Paterson, Liberal member for the Delta, also appeared before the committee and testified in connection with the Hamre liquor case in Langley. He stated he had interceded in behalf of a man who was being wrongly prosecuted. He had so acted in consequence of a largely signed petition of people of that section, and he had made a trip to Victoria and interceded with Attorney-General Manson to withdraw the case, which was done.

Used Unfair Methods

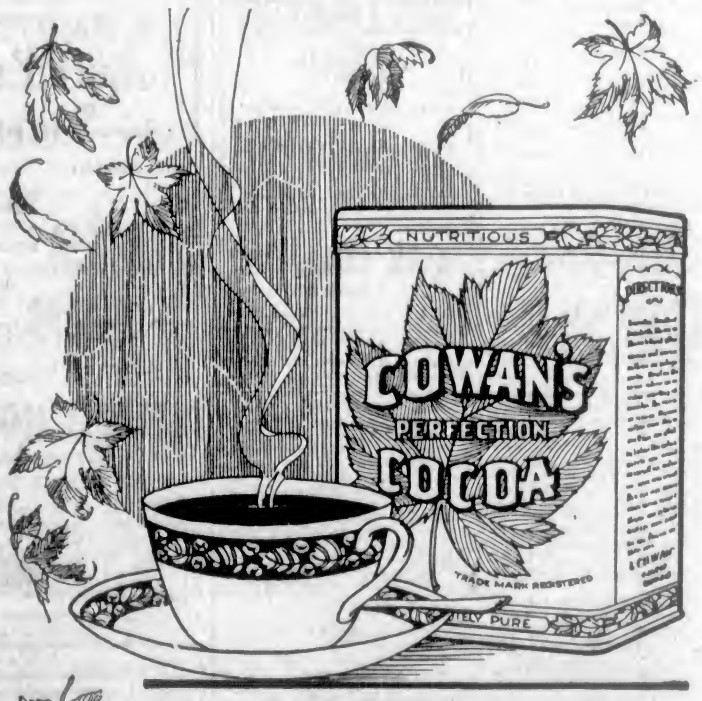

He claimed that Liquor Board operators had used unfair methods in dealing with the man who had driven them in his car all night and presented a bill for $20. When asked if he had a drink in his home, Hamre offered to give them one, and the operators afterwards claimed they had paid Hamre $14 for the use of the car and $6 for a bottle of liquor.

Mr. Bowser inquired whether the Delta member had recommended one Jack Donnelly, convicted for selling beer, to the post of vendor at Langley Prairie, and Mr. Paterson stated he had taken such action, but it was prior to the conviction. Subsequently he had notified the Liquor Board that he would not press such support, but that at a meeting of Langley Liberals held in September he had suggested that Donnelly's name be included with the rest as applicants for the position.

BRITISH OFFICIALS ON PIRATE RAIDED SHIP

HONG KONG, Nov. 22.—It was learned today that passengers on the British steamer Sulan, which arrived here Monday after a thrilling week-end encounter with Chinese pirates, included British government officials and military officers as well as several foreign consuls and tourists returning from an excursion to Macao.

It also was ascertained that a Chinese passenger was missing and that another Chinese passenger had been added to the list of wounded. The pirates left the vessel with loot valued at about $35,000.

Destruction of Burnside Inn Last Year Gives Rise to Litigation Over Insurance Money

The defence set up by the British Crown Assurance Corporation as a justification for its refusal to pay fire assurance amounting to $6,500 to Sutro Bancroft, on account of the burning of the Burnside Inn last December, appeared so inadequate in the view of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, in the Supreme Court yesterday, that he advised the defendant company to reconsider its position, with the result that, after the noon hour adjournment, counsel announced that their clients had agreed to terms of settlement. An adjournment was ordered until this morning, in order that the head office of the company might be asked to confirm the settlement.

The action was brought by Sutro Bancroft, who sued to recover amounts due under three fire assurance policies, namely, $4,000 on the Burnside Inn building; $2,000 on furniture, linen, plate, etc., and $500 on the garage of the inn. Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff.

Defence Alleges Fraud

The company, which was represented by Mr. Frank Higgins, K.C., pleaded in its statement of defence that the plaintiff had presented a fraudulent and exaggerated claim of loss; and had been guilty of suppressing material facts when applying for the policy, in that he had failed to mention that the building encroached on the road allowance at Burnside and Wilkinson Roads.

Evidence given for the plaintiff showed that the place was burnt to the ground, on December 17, 1921, and became a total loss, while Bancroft was absent in California, after having leased it to Roy Morrison.

The plaintiff testified that the place was a wreck when he bought it for $1,500. He spent between $5,000 and $6,000 in rebuilding and equipping it. He admitted that he still owed $500 on the purchase price of the place; and that he had not told Mr. Samuel D. Weldon, the agent of the company, that the building was encroaching on the highway. But he had been to see the municipal authorities as soon as he discovered that fact, he swore; and had been assured that he would not be disturbed, the road being little used at that place. Also, he said, the company's agent had been out to see the place for himself; and so far from the assurance being placed as a result of any anxiety of the plaintiff, the fact was that Mr. Weldon had kept after him day after day for weeks, until the policies were finally written.

By Any Other Name

In closing his case for the plaintiff, Mr. Maclean charged that the defence was of a frivolous and untenable character. One of the paragraphs of the statement of defence, said counsel, in support of his submission, was that Bancroft had described the place as a hotel instead of as a boarding house. This paragraph had been abandoned when the action came to trial; but Mr. Maclean found it significant as to the action of the company in trying to avoid paying the fire insurance.

The learned judge, addressing Mr. Higgins, said that he would adjourn for luncheon earlier than usual, in order that counsel might review his position. If the defence insisted, the court was bound to continue the trial, but the judge was not satisfied with the defence set up.

"On the face of it, this is a very poor defence," said His Lordship. "The defendant company took the premiums. It was not hurt at all by the encroachment of the building upon the road allowance. I do not like the look of such a flimsy defence as this. It is possible, of course, that the law may compel me to give effect to some of these grounds of defence, but as I view it at present, it is a mean defence."

Post Prandial Harmony

Mr. Higgins replied that he had well considered his position; and he could only say that his clients had insisted upon his fighting the case through to a conclusion. Mr. Samuel D. Weldon was called to give evidence as to earlier negotiations for a fire policy which was not written; and the adjournment was taken when the court had expressed the opinion that the evidence was not material to the issue at bar.

In the afternoon, when the judge again took his seat on the bench, Mr. Maclean announced that during the interval terms of settlement had been agreed upon; but it would be necessary to obtain confirmation from the head office of the company. Mr. Justice McDonald congratulated counsel on this conclusion. It was, he felt, the only proper course to take. An adjournment was taken until this morning.

LUMBER OUTLOOK NEVER BRIGHTER

Business Much Better This Fall Than in Previous Years—Atlantic Coast Buys Heavily

The fact that October and November, almost invariably the dull months of the year so far as the lumber industry is concerned, have witnessed wholesale activity—far in excess of that during the corresponding seasons of the last six years, barring 1921, is taken by lumbermen here as a sure sign that the industry will experience an almost unprecedented prosperity next year.

The Atlantic seaboard, formerly a purchaser in this market of only the upper grades of lumber, in comparatively small volume, is today the biggest single factor in the situation, and a fairly continuous flow of shipments have been moving from British Columbia to that territory. The lower grades are now being shipped as well as uppers, and the vastness of the market is such as to promise a much more permanent demand than other markets, such as California, are able to offer.

The Prairie market is in a slump, with little prospect of improvement until about February, when Spring buying will commence. The Prairies take No. 1 common mainly, while the United States buy the highest grades as well as the lowest, Chicago buying largely for crating and similar material.

The Japanese demand has been negligible lately, and Australia has been the one bright spot on the offshore horizon.

Refuse to Quote

Lumber mills of British Columbia are almost daily refusing to quote on lumber deliveries and cuttings for January on the theory that the greatest shortage of lumber in the history of Canadian sawmills will develop in 1923.

Substantiating this theory is the recent report of the rail sawmills of the United States. Practically every small mill, as well as the large plants, from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic, is booking orders well into Spring of next year for car material. Up to November 5 nearly 50,000,000 feet of car material had been placed by the various railroads with these mills, and nearly a similar amount is being tabulated for requirements.

It is estimated by the waterside mills that all the rail mills will be out of the export trade, or that business known as the Atlantic seaboard trade, and this will leave only the tidewater mills to handle a business that is assuming gigantic dimensions.

Not only the optimists but even the usually despondent manufacturers of lumber, are admitting that 1923 lumber trade for the Atlantic seaboard shows signs of nearly doubling that done in the present year.

Over 800,000,000 feet of lumber has been ordered and the major portion shipped this year via the Panama Canal to the Eastern States. The deduction then is that the mills of the Pacific Coast must prepare for 1,600,000,000 feet of lumber to move that way in 1923.

CHIROPRACTORS SEE PLAN TO BLOCK BILL

Rumors in Legislative corridors yesterday morning were to the effect that the chiropractors' bill will be allowed to drift along without any definite action being taken on it until the final hours of the session, when the bill will be left high and dry.

The Neelands measure, which was introduced in the House last Thursday as a private member's bill and, when the debate was adjourned by Mr. F. W. Anderson, Kamloops, was stood over until today, which is private members' day, is meeting with strong obstruction from the medical and other forces, and, the chiropractors state, these tactics have delayed for a full week the effort to have the measure referred to a select committee of the House. With the House getting down to the budget proposals and shortly to inaugurate night sessions, the week lost, the chiropractors claim, has seriously prejudiced their chances for having proper and careful consideration paid to the act. They hint at some form of public protest against the manner in which their bill, they allege, is being manhandled.

Petitions are still pouring into the Government supporting the measure. A week ago it was stated that these petitions had been signed by 10,000 persons in all parts of the Province, and the chiropractors are convinced that by the end of the present week these names will total at least 20,000.

BODY OF F. L. COUSINS COMING TO VICTORIA

Victim of Hunting Accident Shot Through Head From Discharge of His Own Rifle

The body of Fletcher Lee Cousins, of 488 Nelson Street, Esquimalt, who was killed in a hunting accident at Campbell Lake last week-end, will be brought to Victoria tomorrow for burial.

Additional information concerning the accident reached The Colonist yesterday. It is believed that Cousins slipped on a log while tramping about in the woods, a short distance away from his companions, and that when he fell his gun was discharged, the bullet entering an eye and penetrating to the back of his head. Death is believed to have been instantaneous.

His companions heard the shot and at once followed the direction indicated, reaching their comrade only a few minutes after the discharge of the gun.

Mr. Cousins came to this city about fifteen years ago, from Nova Scotia, where he is survived by his mother and two sisters.

Some years ago he operated a bicycle repair shop on Yates Street. For the last four years he had made his home in Esquimalt. He was unmarried and leaves no blood relation in this city. He was a member of the Native Sons of Canada.

Mr. Cousins had only recently returned to his Esquimalt lodgings from Port Renfrew, where he worked during the Summer months in the logging camp of Mr. Hedley Elliott. He was accompanied upon the fatal hunting trip by Messrs. Peter G. Chungranss and Harry B. Stinson, of Victoria, upon whose return home more details of the accident will be available.

BELIEVE DEAD MAN WAS CHINESE WHALER

Coroner's Jury Will Be Asked This Morning to Definitely Establish Identity

The body of a Chinaman found floating in the water under the Johnson Street bridge yesterday morning, was tentatively identified as that of Chew Kay, a former employee of one of the West Coast whaling stations.

A coroner's inquest will be held this morning at the Sands Funeral Chapel, commencing at 11 o'clock, and Chief of Police John Fry stated that the foreman of the jury will be asked to bring in a finding as to the positive identity of the man.

Chew Kay was missed a while ago by his employers, and a search was made for him for two or three days, according to information reaching the police. Finally it was concluded that the Chinaman had gone to Vancouver, and nothing further was done.

The body was recovered from the harbor waters by Mr. A. C. Macdonald and members of the Victoria police force. It was badly decomposed, and evidently had been in the water for some time.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR SGT.-MAJOR BROWN

Remains of Winner of Military Medal Carried to Grave on Gun Carriage —Last Post Is Sounded

The funeral of the late John Brown, M.M., ex-regimental sergeant-major, who died last Sunday morning, was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Thomson Funeral Home, Quadra Street, to Ross Bay Cemetery, Rev. W. J. Sipprell, pastor of the Metropolitan Church, officiating.

The late Mr. Brown was the possessor of a splendid war record, and the funeral was of a military nature. The casket, draped in the folds of a Union Jack, was carried to the cemetery on a gun carriage in charge of Sergeant W. J Cooney, and a firing party from the 5th Regiment, Canadian Garrison Artillery, in command of Sergeant A. Smith, fired three volleys over the grave. Bugler T. M. Hanna sounded "Last Post." The following friends of the deceased were pallbearers: Messrs. T. McEwan, A. Murray, D. T. Irvine, B. O. Taylor, G. R. Cleator, D. Campbell.

Rev. Mr. Sipprell's impressive address given at the funeral home before the cortege moved off was followed by the singing of the hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." An unusually large number of sympathetic friends attended, and the services of a special car were necessary in order to convey the abundant floral tributes to the cemetery.

TRAFFIC TROUBLES IN SAANICH DISTRICT

The practice of cyclists using the highways of Saanich after nightfall, without exercising the precaution of carrying a light on their machines, will not be tolerated after next Saturday, according to the terms of a warning issued by Chief of Police Peter Brogan yesterday. Beginning next week the police officers will rigorously enforce the by-law, announces the chief. The action is rendered necessary, the chief explains, for the protection of the cyclists themselves; several recent accidents being referable to the dangerous habit of riding unlighted bicycles on the dark roads.

Chief Brogan is also anxious to gain wide publicity for his appeal to pedestrians to use the sidewalks where such are provided. Several recent accidents were attributable to the fact that foot passengers persisted in walking in the middle of the road, although a sidewalk was available for their use. The increasing motor traffic on Saanich highways makes it imperative that pedestrians shall use sidewalks in that municipality, just as much as if they were in the city, according to the police point of view.

St. Jude's Social Guild—The St. Jude's Social Guild will hold a meeting at the church tonight at 8 o'clock. This meeting is called to enable all gentlemen members to be present.

Amputation Club—The social evening which was to have taken place in the club rooms of the Amputation Club next Saturday evening unavoidably has been postponed to a later date.

North Dairy P.-T.—A meeting of the North Dairy Parent-Teachers' Association will be held in the schoolroom on Friday next, at 8 p.m. All members are asked to attend, as arrangements will be made for the children's Christmas tree next month.

Child and Home—At the monthly meeting of the Island Council for Social Hygiene, to be held this evening at the Island Arts and Crafts Club rooms, Union Bank Building, at 8 o'clock, the equal moral standard committee of the Local Council of Women will have some speakers to take part in the discussion on the paper Mrs. J. D. Gordon is to read on "The Home in Its Relation to the Training of Children."

Results of Bazaar—At the bazaar in the Knights of Columbus Hall on October 4 by the Poor Clare Nuns, the sum of $1,020.35 was realized, and the expenses amounted to $85. The object of the bazaar was to secure funds for excavation and repairs to the monastry. The sum of $800 has been deposited in the bank, as it is too late in the season to do the repair work before Spring. The remainder of the net receipts are being used to purchase fuel for the Winter.

City Police Court—Summons cases in the police court yesterday included that of Cyril Wilber, who was fined $5 for parking his motor car in the prohibited area of Broad Street. Magistrate Jay remarked that the parking regulations in that part of the town were now well indicated by the signs placed there by the police. Luther Bond was fined $3 for not having a light on his bicycle. Lee On, who came up for judgment on a remanded charge of being found in a common gaming house, was further remanded until tomorrow.

Tax Must Be Paid—Edward Eneel, Derby Road, Saanich, was charged in the municipal police court yesterday with failure to pay the road and poll taxes. The defendant pleaded that he was meeting his fair share of taxation, inasmuch as the property tax on property held in his wife's name was actually paid out of his own earnings. Magistrate Jay said that the law would not recognise that state of affairs as a valid defence against failure to pay the road and poll taxes, and remanded the case for one week, on the understanding that the defendant should pay the taxes in the meanwhile.

Cathedral Entertainment—Parents of members of Christ Church Cathedral and St. James' Sunday schools, and other adult parishioners, are invited to an entertainment to take place in the Cathedral schoolroom tomorrow night at eight o'clock. The evening's programme includes two plays. The longer one, in four acts, will be presented by the senior girls' class. Members of several classes of the senior division of the Cathedral school will contribute musical and other items to the programme. In the course of the evening the plan of the new school building will be explained for the information of parents and others who attend.

Hall Tuesday evening, and after the usual business was dispatched the election of officers for the ensuing year took place, resulting as follows: Royal Vizier, W. A. Shaw; Grand Emir, R. C. Henderson; Sheik, M. R. Woodburn; Mahadi, H. A. Mansell; Secretary, A. G. H. Harding; Treasurer, E. P. Nathan; Satrap, H. McLean Turner; Sahib, W. J. Webb. It was also arranged that a grand ceremonial will take place on Saturday, December 2, when it is expected that many visitors will be present from the Island, Mainland and Washington.

Successful Sale—A most successful sale of work and home cooking was held on Saturday in the Arts and Crafts room under the auspices of the New Thought Ladies Sewing Club. After a brief address by Dr. Butler, Mrs. F. Bullen informally opening the bazaar, said: "the efforts of women were a big factor for success in every undertaking that was for the uplift and benefit of humanity." Little Miss Dorothy Baker presented Mrs. Bullen and Mrs. Donagh, the president, with bouquets of flowers as a mark of esteem. The results of the guessing contests were as follows: Rug, won by Mr. Day; basket of apples, Mr. Campbell; bureau scarf, Mrs. Bailey; doll, Miss Herd; chanticleer, Mr. Bowser.

NORMAL SCHOOLS TO SERVE WIDER AREA

Minister of Education Tells Legislature of Plans—Serious Congestion Not Possible

Plans for extending the scope of the normal schools at Victoria and Vancouver were outlined to the Legislature last night by Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education. The School Act amendments were being dealt with by committee of the whole.

Hon. Mr. MacLean pointed out that applications had come in from about 420 individuals for tuition at the Vancouver normal school. All these applicants could not be accommodated, and the only solution, so far as he could see, was to create districts making Vancouver city and the Lower Mainland surrounding Vancouver one, and obliging those pupils from that area to attend the normal school there.

Victoria, he said, could take care of about fifty or sixty additional pupils. Places outside the Vancouver district so designated were obliged to come to Victoria, as they had to be away from home in any event.

Mr. J. W. Jones, Conservative member for South Okanagan, asked if the accommodation in Vancouver and Victoria normal schools were taxed to the utmost, had the Department considered the advisability of building a new normal school in the Interior.

The Minister replied that the possibility of overtaxing the schools was not likely to materialize and the Government had not been obliged to consider this phase of the question.

Major R. J. Burde, Independent member for Alberni, complained that school children in his district were forced to know the spelling of words whose meaning they did not know. He held that this was a reflection upon the school inspectors.

Captain Ian Mackenzie's reading of the bill was so rapid that Mr. Fred Anderson, Liberal member for Kamloops, could not follow it, and the debate was adjourned by Hon. Dr. MacLean, with Mr. Anderson still protesting and asking whether he was entitled to recognition of the House.

The House adjourned at 11:15 o'clock and will sit again this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CONDEMNS TEXT BOOK ON HISTORY

produced. It was a work on modern history, and he especially dealt with extracts pertaining to the Great War, his argument emphasizing his point that for students in Canada who should have inculcated in their minds the ideals and traditions of the Empire and the Dominion, the work was not fit to find a place on the school curriculum.

"The subject of history is one our young people should not have to learn from American sources. When we consider the Monroe doctrine, I think a history of Europe as American eyes see it is not a proper one," said the member for Victoria, who held that what was wanted was history taught from the British viewpoint.

"I find in this publication that seventy-five pages are devoted to the Great War and in all that the Canadians are referred to just twice. I find that one of the greatest military feats performed by the British or any other nation—the retreat from Mons—which no Briton can read without pride, is all dismissed in this so-called history by the words "The French and English rapidly retreated south." Not a word of the tremendous odds against which they fought, or of the heroism which should be an inspiration to every Canadian youth."

Mr. F. W. Anderson—"If these statements are correct I would like the Minister of Education to get up in his place and tell us why he is allowing this stuff to be taught in our schools."

Lands on United States

Numerous other quotations from the history were made by Canon Hinchliffe to prove his point that the book was a mere glorification of the American share in the war, even down to Wilson's famous fourteen points, which, the speaker declared, wrecked the advantages secured by the British forces. Here was another quotation, said Canon Hinchliffe, who read: "At last in 1917 England became a democracy after more than a century. It is essentially a republic in spite of its King and nobility."

"We find here a long speech by President Wilson in 1914, but not a single reference to one or two British statesmen whose utterances at that critical time should be known to every Canadian."

The book, the speaker said, was well illustrated with pictures of men prominent in the United States, but not a sign of any Canadian who gallantly took his part in the struggle.

The history was all right from the American viewpoint, said Canon Hinchliffe, who saw no reason why Americans should not say the very best of themselves that they wished, but the primary object of instructing Canadian youth in history was, he took it, to make them better citizens, proud of their country and of her history and institutions. Certain great names in the war will for ever be remembered by Canadians. Vimy, Cambrai and others, but they were not even mentioned in this work.

"Why does not the member lay a charge against the Minister?" interjected Mr. F. W. Anderson, amid laughter.

"I certainly agree with the Premier that if we are going to vote money for the University we must have some supervision. I certainly object to such American books which refuse to give credit to Canadians and put American men and American achievements first," concluded Canon Hinchliffe.

Mr. Samuel Guthrie adjourned the debate.

TO REMOVE TAX ON PERSONAL PROPERTY

Richmond's Member Says Impost Is Unfair—Wants Facts of Steel Company Flotation

Condemnation of the personal property tax and a demand upon the Minister of Finance to remove what he declared to be one of the most unfair and unjust burdens upon the business men and manufacturers of the Province, was made by Mr. Thomas Pearson, Conservative member for Richmond, when speaking in the Budget debate in the Legislature last night.

The member also called upon the Government to give the House some information of the status of the negotiations in progress with the Coast Range Steel Company, concerning which recently in the House the Minister of Mines had stated it was not in the public interest to, at present, table any information connected with the negotiations.

Mr. Pearson regretted that the Minister of Finance had seen fit to include in his Budget proposals this year the unpopular personal property tax, one which, he averred, is creating more hardship than any other class of tax. Apparently the Minister did not fully appreciate the situation of those affected, a large element though not as large as that affected by the income tax.

"It is certainly hitting a man when he is down," said the member for Richmond, who also objected to the methods adopted in collecting the tax.

On the matter of the Coast Range Steel Company, Mr. Pearson held the members were entitled to know something of what is being done. He would agree it would not be wise to encourage a speculative enterprise, but when it was known that reputable engineers have reported vast iron ore deposits, suitable coal supplies and the required flux, members had a right to believe that every encouragement would be given to capital to make a start. It was only reasonable that the company should appeal to the Government, and the Government should, at least, give the House some idea of what is going on. The Government should not hesitate to tender support to any concern which, it could be shown, had a reasonable chance of success, for the establishment of the iron and steel industry in the Province would prove a most valuable asset and, especially so, in the face of the unemployment problem.

The Government, the member for Richmond held, should have taken the initiative in the matter rather than let promoters launch their plan outside the Province and then come here to talk business.

Mr. F. W. Anderson considered it unfair for Richmond's member to cast reflections upon the Government when the House had already been informed that a statement would be forthcoming before any obligation was undertaken.

PRINCE SMILINGLY WAIVES HIS RIGHTS

With Fifty Noblemen Awaiting to Take Oath He Waits His Turn at the End of Line

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The House of Lords—that august body which clings tenaciously to its old-time dignity, and which makes much of the matter of precedence among its notable members—was amazed today when the Prince of Wales, who outranks them all, smilingly gave precedence a knockout blow by waiving the rights to which he is entitled as heir to the throne.

When the Prince arrived to take the oath as member of the new Parliament, he found some fifty noble lords lined up waiting to perform the ceremony. The Clerk of the House immediately hurried to the Prince to conduct him to the head of the line, but he shook his head and retained his place at the end.

Several of the noble lords offered the Prince their places in the line, but he smilingly declined them all, and waited his turn.

SEVENTY MINERS DIE IN DUST EXPLOSION

Nearly Five Hundred Were Entombed in Alabama Mine—Sixty Injured —Workings Explored

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 22.—Seventy miners were killed and sixty injured, some of them seriously, in a dust explosion in Dolomite mine, No. 3, of the Woodward Iron Co., nine miles from this city, this afternoon, which trapped 480 workers beneath the surface, according to an official statement issued here tonight by Mr. D. E. Wilson, treasurer of the company.

At midnight officials of the company summed up the result of the disaster as follows:

Dead, 70; injured, 60; men rescued uninjured, 345.

The workings have been completely explored.

Fifty Injured

One hundred and twenty-five men of a total number of 400 in the Woodward Iron Company's No. 2 mine at Dolomite, when it was partly wrecked by dust explosion at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon, were removed late in the day from the pit by means of a manway connecting mines No. 2 and No. 3. Fifty of the men were reported injured, a few seriously.

Fire which followed the explosion hindered the work of rescue and was believed to have been responsible for many deaths. The injured among the first men rescued were removed to Bessemer hospitals.

Half of the men are white.

As the work of rescue progressed, reports to the surface grew less hopeful. One squad of workers reported seeing bodies "strewn all along the main passage way."

Anxiously Await News

As darkness came, women and children, white and black, crowded closer about the mine, anxiously awaiting in common terror word from the pit. The injured were being removed by rescue crews, while undertakers' assistants were preparing for removal of the dead found in the entries nearest the manway.

At the company's office it was stated that of the men who checked in for work today 480 were under ground when the explosion occurred.

Broken Circuit

According to mine officials, a broken electric circuit, caused by the runaway of a train of trip cars, was responsible for ignition of the dust.

Fifty men, mostly white, were caught under the wreckage of the three "skip" cars, which plunged at great speed when they broke loose from their moorings on the tipple eleven hundred feet above. Rescue crews found mangled bodies and a score of injured men entangled with twisted steel and splintered wood.

Men so caught were skilled workers, many of them sub-foremen and electricians employed in the underground "yard."

Annual Birthday Tea.

The Seaman's Institute president, Mrs. Alice Thomson, and the committee were "At Home" to their friends yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6, this being the annual birthday tea. About seventy were present, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Miss Kate Hemming arranged a delightful programme of music, which included two solos by herself, in which her rich contralto voice and splendid training showed to advantage. She was presented afterwards with a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Frederick Moore played violin solos, Mrs. Hauser, pianoforte solos, while the other vocalists of the afternoon were Mr. Thomas Kelway and Miss Myra Renwick. Each number was well rendered and warmly encored. A dance and character songs were contributed by Miss Carpentier. Before the gathering dispersed, Mrs. Thomson made a happy little speech expressing her pleasure at seeing so many of the Institute's friends present, and thanking them for their show of sympathy with the efforts which the ladies were making. The singing of the National Anthem, including the additional sailors' verse, concluded the proceedings.

Try Doing Next Week's Washing with Rinso

Find out for yourself why hundreds of thousands of women say that they could not face another wash day without it. The two easy steps below will save you hours of back breaking rubbing.

First: For each tub of clothes dissolve a half a package of Rinso into a little cool water until it is like thick cream, then stir in two quarts of boiling water. If the water is hard, or the clothes extra dirty, use more Rinso.

Then, pour into tub—of cool or lukewarm water. Mix well. Keep adding the solution until you get a rich, lasting, soapy suds, even after the clothes have been put in. Do not pour the Rinso direct from the package into the tub.

Soak the clothes for one hour, two hours, overnight, or as long as convenient. Then rinse to remove the loosened dirt, until the water runs clear. Hang them out to dry.

There's no rubbing—no boiling. Rinso is not a washing powder, but a scientific combination of pure cleansing materials that loosen and dissolve the dirt from even the heaviest pieces. It soaks clothes clean in a few hours without injury to a single fabric.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE

Follow the regular directions given here. Soak the clothes. Then, before operating the machine, add fresh Rinso solution using the same amount of Rinso as you used for soaking. No other product is needed when Rinso is used.

PASTURE LAND TRESPASS

In the County Court yesterday the action of J. G. Dobbs against Hookum Singh and Basanta came on for trial before Judge Lampman. The plaintiff sued for damages on account of alleged trespass by the defendants on pasture land in Saanich leased by him from the B. C. Electric Company. The defendants pleaded that they had turned their cows into the pasture only after they had also leased the land from the company.

The court held that the trespass, while it might have been due to a misunderstanding, was one for which the defendants were responsible; and they were ordered each to pay damages in the sum of $50. Mr. N. W. Whittaker appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. J. B. Walls for the defendants.

Over three hundred members of Victoria Lodge, No. 2, B.P.O.E., last night in their headquarters in the Weiler Block extended a welcome to District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of British Columbia, Mr. Albert A. MISS MARJORIE FORD WEDS J. H. DAVIDSON AT ST. MARK'S CHURCH

A very pretty fully choral wedding was solemnised on Monday evening at St. Mark's Church, Boleskine Road, by the Rev. H. V. Hitchcock, when Marjorie Kate, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Ford, 3248 Pine Street, became the bride of Joseph Henry (Dot) Davidson, youngest son of Mrs. Davidson, of 617 Pine Street, Victoria West. Mr. B. Waude rendered the solo "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked radiantly beautiful in a dress of white satin with panels of radium lace, trimmed with pearls, and wearing the conventional veil and carrying a shower bouquet of roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Hickman, wearing a dress of apricot satin with silver lace, with a black picture hat, and the bride's little sister Ada, dressed in turquoise blue satin, with hat to match, carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Ford, the bride's mother, looked charming in a dress of navy blue satin, while Mrs. Davidson, the bridegroom's mother, wore a very becoming gown of heliotrope satin.

The ushers were Mr. G. R. Ford and Mr. W. Davidson. The reception was held at St. Mark's Hall, over two hundred guests attending, the happy couple receiving the best wishes of their numerous friends under a prettily decorated arch. A delicious buffet supper was served, the table being prettily decorated with Autumn leaves and streamers, with a large three-tier cake in the centre.

After the supper dancing was indulged in, the music being supplied by Messrs. A. Food, J. Young and R. Kinloch. Among the numerous presente was a silver tea service from the Hudson's Bay Company, where the bride was an employee. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left on the midnight boat for Portland, via Vancouver. The bride wore a smart travelling suit of brown velour with hat to match.

LONDON UNEMPLOYED PARADE WAS ORDERLY

Heralded Army of 100,000 Desperate Characters Dwindled to Few Hundred Peaceful Folk

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The demonstration by London's unemployed, planned for today, the supposed arrangements for which brought out screaming headlines in this morning's London newspapers, warning of possible bloodshed and Bolshevism, turned out in actuality to be quite an orderly affair.

Peaceful Citizens

The widely-heralded army of 100,000 or so desperate characters who were expected to assemble on the Embankment and try to beat their way through to Downing Street to enforce their demands for an audience with Prime Minister Bonar Law dwindled to a few hundreds of apparently peaceful folk. The authorities had taken wholesale precautions against possible trouble, and none of the comparatively small number of demonstrants gave signs of any pronounced inclination to challenge the authority of the swarms of police, mounted and on foot, in the Whitehall section.

Sent Delegation

Instead of offering violence, the leaders of the unemployed accepted an invitation from Prime Minister Bonar Law to send a delegation to the Ministers of Labor and Health in place of seeing the Prime Minister personally, and the delegation proceeded quietly, under police escort, to the Labor Ministry.

The rest of the demonstrants marched to Hyde Park to await the report of their leaders.

Walter Hagen Gives Wonderful Show of Superlative Playing

British Open Champion Equals Course Record in Exhibition Foursome at Colwood—Paired With Dave Black, Wins From Willie Black and Phil Taylor Four Up and Three to Play

UNDER perfect golfing conditions, Victoria golf lovers yesterday witnessed an exhibition of match play which has perhaps been seldom or never equalled here, when Walter Hagen, British open champion, paired with Dave Black, the popular Vancouver professional, met Phil Taylor and W. Black, the two local professionals. While all at times played good golf, the work of Hagen stamps him as a wonder golfer. In no department of the game can he be said to have a weakness, and when he played the second round, gave an exhibition worth going miles to witness. His score of 69 for the last round of eighteen holes equals the course record. In driving and putting he perhaps excelled. During the whole 36 holes he never missed a tee shot, and on only one occasion was he in real difficulty, when he put his second in the ditch on the third.

Style of His Own

His style is perhaps different from any player who has appeared here. He plays all his shots with his weight apparently on his left leg and the ball opposite his left toe; especially does this apply to his tee shots and in putting.

It was unfortunate that Joe Kirkwood, who is ill in Vancouver, was unable to take part, as many who missed seeing him last time were anxious to see him perform, and no doubt this accounted for the comparatively small gallery that watched the play.

The Play in Detail

1. Dave Black drove the first ball, followed in turn by Hagen, W. Black and Taylor. All hit long shots, with Hagen getting the most distance. W. Black failed to hit his second clean and was short of the green, but his third lay within easy putting distance. D. Black sliced into the right bunker, was out nicely and down in five. Hagen and Taylor both overran the green with their seconds, and in making the approach shot Hagen was short, missed his putt and went down in five. Taylor, whose third went past the pin, tried for a four and sank his bail, but in addressing the ball moved it. Thinking his partner had won the hole, Willie Black did not set himself to putt, and it was only after leaving the green that the hole was declared a tie.

2. W. Black here got the longest drive and laid his second just beyond the pin on the side hill, leaving him a difficult putt, which he missed, and was down in four. Taylor, after a good drive, landed his second in the right bunker, and came out short, taking two putts for a five, which was also the score of D. Black, whose second went over the green. Hagen hooked a terrific drive through the left bunker into the fairway, played his second short, but laid his approach near enough to sink his putt for a four, halving the hole. All square.

3. Hagen, Taylor and W. Black here played perfect golf, being on in two and down in four, Taylor just missing a three when his ball stopped on the lip of the cup. Dave Black here made a splendid recovery after his sliced second shot struck a tree and rebounded to the gravel along the ditch. Taking his jigger, he placed his ball within easy putting distance and sank it for a four. All square.

4. Only Taylor's ball reached this green, the Black brothers being in the rough to the right. Hagen, whose drive was short, almost sunk his approach and was down in three. W. Black also laid his approach "dead" and made a three. Taylor made a try for the hole and just missed, being also down in three. D. Black failed to lay his approach close and was down in four. All square.

5. All got long drives on the fifth, were on in two and down in four, Taylor again just missing a three. Taylor seemed to have hard luck in his putting, having failed to win the last three holes by inches. All square.

6. Again all drove long balls, but only Taylor reached the green in two, the others being short. Hagen and W. Black each laid their third well up to the pin and were down in foure, D. Black getting a five. Taylor here had a nasty putt which he missed and also went down in four. All square.

Hagen Makes First Win

7. Hagen and D. Black were on the green nicely with their irons, but W. Black hooked into the rough on the left, having a difficult approach, and Taylor's tee shot held in the long grass at the third bunker. D. Black failed to hole his putt, but Hagen sank his for a two, which neither of his opponents could equal, and the visitors went into the lead for the first time. Hagen and D. Black one up.

8. Hagen and D. Black both pushed their tee shots to the trees on the right, while Taylor and W. Black hooked theirs to left, thus opening up the hole nicely. All were on in two and down in four, though Hagen nearly sank a long putt for a three.

9. All drove long balls, W. Black and Hagen being atymied by the same tree. Willie played his safely to the green, but Hagen's hit the tree and bounced into the closed ninth fairway, from which he played to the green, being down in five. The others came on in two and down in four. Another half, Hagen and D. Black being one up at the turn.

10. Hagen here sent out a very long tee shot, was on in two and down in four. Dave and Willie both sliced their second shots into the trap at right of green, their thirds overrunning the pin and just missing fours by inches. Taylor, who placed his third well up to the pin, missed a short putt for a half. Hagen and Black now two up.

11. Taylor and D. Black here drove the green, Taylor, being pin high, missed a comparatively short putt and was down in three, halving the hole with D. Black. W. Black drove into the left bunkers and was down in four. Hagen's tee shot was over the green. He misjudged his approach and was down in four.

12. D. Black's tee shot hit the face of the bunker, but went over. Hagen's drive was sliced badly, but he made a splendid shot around the trees, reaching the green in two but took three putts, being down in five. Here W. Black missed a short putt, which would have won a hole, after laying his approach close to the pin. Taylor also was down in five and D. Black in six. Visitors still two up.

A Fine Hole

13. Here Taylor and Hagen gave a demonstration of how golf can be played. All got long tee shots and were on in two, but Taylor's mashie shot dropped within three feet of the pin and he sank it for a three, Hagen having previously holed his for a three after Dave and Willie had missed their thirds.

14. Willie Black won this hole in four, holing a long putt which none of the others could equal. Hagen and W. Black now one up.

15. Hagen and Taylor put their tee shots on the green and were down in three. D. Black just cleared the left bunker, placed his approach "dead" for another three. Willie drove into left bunker and made a beautiful pitch to the pin but missed an easy putt. Down in four.

16. The visitors won this hole when Hagen placed his second on the green and sunk a nice putt for a three. D. Black made a four, and so did W. Black, who pitched his third out of the bunker and holed his putt for a four, Taylor, who topped his drive, being down in five.

A Great Drive

The seventeenth ended with three foure and a five. W. Black, whose drive was short, laid his second on the green, within easy putting distance, but failed to sink his putt. Hagen's tee shot had a very long carry, coming to rest opposite the large tree on the left. His second was short, but he was down in four, as also was Taylor. D. Black made a five, his second being over the green.

18th—W. Black and Taylor both made nice fours and won the hole. D. Black's drive was into the left trees, and after duffing his third, Hagen's second landed in the rough to left of green and his best was a five, Hagen and Black finishing the round one up.

Second Round

1st—Among the many long drives of the day this one of Hagen's stands out as perhaps the longest, reaching almost to the red sign on the right. His second was "dead" and he holed the put for a three. Taylor and D. Black each made a four, but Willie Black's drive failed to clear the hazard and he was down in five.

2nd—All drove well on the second, but W. Black placed his second in the right bunker, getting a five. Taylor's second was short, he also getting a five. D. Black and Hagen were both on in two and down in fours, they being now three up, which was increased to four when Dave Black, using a spoon for his second shot, laid his ball "dead" on the third green for a three. Hagen's second found the ditch and he was down in five, as also were Taylor and W. Black. Hagen and Black now four up.

4th—Willie Black's tee shot found the green but the others were short and Taylor and Hagen approached to the pin and were down in threes, as was Black, Dave getting a four.

5th—Hagen got a four on this hole, but the play of the others was ragged, all getting fives. Hagen and Black five up.

6th—The sixth was won by Willie Black in a finely-played three. Hagen's drive was in the rough on left and he made a very pretty second to the green, being down in four.

7th—This was halved, Taylor, Hagen and W. Black all getting threes.

8th—Reversing the play of the previous round, Taylor and W. Black this time drove to the right and their opponents to the left. Taylor and Hagen halved the hole in three. W. Black struck the pin with his second and bounded off the green, Dave's second finding the bunker.

9th—The ninth was halved, all getting fours, Hagen and Black being four up at the turn.

A Little Trouble

10th—Hagen and Taylor halved in fours, after long drives, both being on in two. W. Black hooked his second into the rough and put third in bunker. Dave's second was out of bounds and he did not play out.

11th—Hagen drove to the green, his ball resting pin high, and he sank a long put for a two, being again five up, all the others being in the rough at the left and down in fours.

12th—Dave hooked drive into the woods. Hagen, W. Black and Taylor drove long and straight, Willie's second reaching the green and down in four. Hagen, whose second was short, laid his third "dead" and also had a four. Taylor hooked his second into the rough and was down in five.

13th—The thirteenth was halved, all making fours, after long drives and good seconds to the green.

14th—W. Black again won the fourteenth in four and prolonged the match another hole. Hagen's second was in the rough to left, approached well and rimmed the cup with his fourth. Dave and Taylor got fives.

15th—Taylor, W. Black and Hagen halved this hole in three, D. Black getting a four, and the match ended four up and three.

16th—Hagen and Taylor each made fours, after all had screeching drives.

17th—This hole was halved by the brothers in fours, Hagen and Taylor getting fives.

18th—Hagen ended the match by making the eighteenth in four. Taylor's drive landed in the trees, and, failing to get out, picked up. W. Black's drive was short and the best he could get was a five.

The reply, it is said, has been to the effect that it is no use throwing good money away after bad, The Star says.

Reid's Goaltending Gives the Maroons Victory at Seattle

Frank Patrick's Puckchasers Score Their First Win of the Season on Metropolitans' Home Ice—Vancouver Takes Early Lead and Holds It All Through—Two Minor Casualties

SEATTLE, Nov. 22.—Charlie Reid played "Katey Bar the Door" in Seattle tonight, and the Vancouver Maroons walked away with a 5 to 2 victory over the locals in their first appearance here this year.

Reid was just naturally the whole show defensively for the Vancouver team, making one spectacular save after another. Only once was he trapped by the Mets in their combination rushes, the first goal scored against him by Briden coming after Bobbie Rowe had drawn him from the net. The other goal was a lucky shot by Morris from close in, on which the Vancouver goalie had no chance to save.

The game was a thrilling one, despite the fact that the Vancouver team took an early lead and held it to the end.

The visitors netted the puck twice in each of the first two periods.

Lloyd Cook played a wonderful offensive game for Vancouver.

Skinner Gets First

Alf Skinner notched the first Vancouver goal less than three minutes after the start. Newell broke in with a bang before local hockey fans, and assisted him by drawing the Seattle defence over before he passed. Alfie then whipped in one of those non-stop bullet shots. Then came a pretty solo rush by Cook down the left side of the rink for a second score.

Seattle seemingly was unable to get started against the terrific back checking and close defensive work of the Maroons in either of the first two periods, though Briden did whip one in later in the second period.

But the visitors had notched another pair, Cook and Skinner again scoring before that first Seattle goal came.

The Line-up

The third period saw the fastest hockey of the evening. The Mets came back with a rush, slamming their way up and down the ice at top speed, making frequent substitutions to keep up that pace, but Charlie Reid was on the job every minute. Morris beat him shortly after Boucher had made the score 5 to 1. That goal was forgotten, however, in the wonderful saves the Calgary lad made as the battling became hot.

Foyston and Walker did the best work for Seattle. Foyston shot at Reid a hundred times during the evening, but had no luck.

Duncan suffered a painfully bruised shoulder and Roy Rickey hurt his foot and did not appear on the ice after the first three minutes.

FITZ'S TAKE TOLL FROM HUDSON'S BAYS

Score Another Victory in Wednesday Soccer League by Three to Two —Were Led at Half-Time

After being led at the end of the first half of the game by two to one, Fitz's soccer team yesterday continued on their victorious career by defeating the Hudson's Bays by three to two. In the first half the play was very even, although the Bays had scored two goals before Fitz's succeeded in getting into the scoring column. Turner and Alcock were the men to score, heading in good passes from the right wing. Gibson notched the countering tally, bouncing the ball into the net off an opposing full back, the shot thus giving the goalkeeper no chance at all.

The play of the Fitzes in the second half was very good, and they fully deserved to win. Shrimpton's work in goal was especially good. The whole team played good soccer, Gibson, at centre half, was very sound, and their new centre forward, Whyte, proved a distinct acquisition to the line-up and did his share of the scoring, netting a good goal, Gibson getting the other two. The Bays were never dangerous in this half. P. C. Payne refereed, and made a good job of it. The line-up was as follows:

Fitz's—Jasper; Grimes and Temple; Sharrock, Gibson and Lynn; Sharcott, Erskine, Whyte, Warren and Pocock.

Hudson's Bays—Shrimpton; Akcherall and Smith; Anstead, Allen and Wauds; Caskie, Stewart, Turner, Alcock and Richardson.

HOCKEY AT WINNIPEG

Cleveland Team Wins Overtime Game From Winnipeg All-Stars by Five to Four

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22.—The Cleveland, Ohio, sextette won a spectacular overtime hockey game from the Winnipeg All-Stars after eight minutes of extra play in a desperately-fought battle here tonight, 5-4.

The game was hard-fought throughout, with the visitors having the edge in the first two periods, when they took a 4 to 2 lead, but the locals outplayed them in the final session and tied up the count.

GETTING READY TO FILL SIKI'S PLACE

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The French boxing federation today announced the opening of competitions for the light-heavyweight championship of France made vacant through the disqualifying of battling Siki. Aspirants for the title must announce their intentions before November 30.

QUICK CHANGES IN SOCCER STANDING

FITZ'S TEAM IS MAKING THINGS SOMEWHAT LIVELY

Have Made Fast Jump From Cellar to Second Place in the Wednesday League

Jumping from the cellar position of the Victoria and District Wednesday Football League to second position in quick time is the experience of Fitz's soccer team, and no little credit is due them for the present showing they are making in this league. Coming in at the eleventh hour to make a four-team league, Fitz's team displayed real sportsmanship, and now they are sweeping the other teams before them. Last week Weilers, last year's champions and present league leaders, fell by the wayside at the hands of this team, and yesterday they took the Hudson's Bay in hand and handed them a licking. What they will do to the Garrison next week remains to be seen. By their victory yesterday, Fitz's are now two points behind Weilers, the present leaders, with the Garrison and the Bays tied for lowest place. The league standing of the Victoria and District Wednesday Football League, including yesterday's games, is as follows:

	P.	W.	L.	Dr.	Pts.
Weilers	7	4	2	1	9
Fitz's	7	3	3	1	7
Hudson's Bay	8	2	4	2	6

GREAT MATCH AT ARENA TOMORROW

COUGARS WILL ENTERTAIN THE AMERICAN PUCKCHASERS

Seattle Mets Will Be in Good Form in Battle Against Victoria—Speedy Contest Expected

The Cougars will be on the warpath tomorrow night, and the Seattle Metropolitans had better be on the lookout for trouble. Lester Patrick's proteges are anxious to start the season right, and hope to chalk up a victory at the expense of the puckchasers from the American centre.

Seattle has faced the local ice dogs only once this year, but they did fast work on that occasion and handed the Cougars a pretty whipping by 4 notches to nil. The Victoria sextette wishes to take out their revenge on the visitors by giving them a beating that they will remember. There is only one thing standing in their way of accomplishing their desires. And that is the Seattle team.

It is a pretty safe guess that Pete Muldoon's crowd will be out to make the going warm for the Capitals. Seattle is smarting from the lacing they received last night at the hands of the Vancouver Maroons, and will plan to administer a similar dose to that which they were subjected. Frank Foyston has his crew in good shape, so the battle should be well worth witnessing.

A Fast Workout

Under the guidance of Eddie Oatman, the blue and gold players went through a fast workout yesterday afternoon and will now rest up until tomorrow night. All the boys looked pretty fit yesterday, and will enter the contest with the Metropolitans in good shape. Clem Loughlin met a slight mishap yesterday, which might to a slight extent interfere with his work tomorrow. During the practice, Frederickson's skate spiked Loughlin's foot, with the result that Clem had to see a medical man and his injury was attended to. He was not severely hurt, however, and will be in his place when the curtain rises Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Willows ice palace.

With the match being played under six-man hockey rules, and both clubs having speedy skaters on their lineups, the game should prove an interesting game of hockey, and local fans will be on their feet pulling strongly for the Cougars to trim the Americans and occupy the premier berth in the P.C.H.A. There is a lot at stake in the contest, and both squads will be out to walk off with the game.

This match will be the second to be played this year at the big skating Arena here. The Cougars are always glad to have the Seattle men as their guests, and plan to handle them without kid gloves tomorrow night. The Mets are always glad to visit the Cougars' home every few weeks, and realise that they will have to work hard the whole time if they want to take back the bacon with them to the Sound city.

WEILERS TEAM WINS FROM THE TOMMIES

Soccer League Game Was Well Contested, With Only Goal Scored in Last Ten Minutes

Over three hundred people witnessed Weiler's Wednesday soccer team, present league leaders, defeat the Tommies from Work Point by 1-0 at Beacon Hill yesterday, but not until within ten minutes of full time did the present top dogs slip the ball past Waggett, the Garrison net custodian, for the only tally of the day.

From the kick-off the pace set by these teams was very fast, and the ball traveled from one end of the field to the other, with both goalies being called upon to save some good shots, all of which they cast aside in fine style. Lomas in particular showed great form. When this net custodian was the only man to beat he proved to be on the job, and the Garrison forwards found it impossible to pierce the net for a goal. Waggett, the Garrison net custodian, was also responsible for some good work in this half, and his goal tending proved too much for the opposing forwards, and consequently when the whistle sounded for half-time neither team had registered a goal.

Fruitless Attack

Upon resuming the play, Weiler's came back strong at the Garrison goal, but the defence and the net custodian saved the situation, and all the attempts of the Weiler's forwards to break into the score column were shattered. This attack on the Tommies' goal, which lasted for about fifteen minutes, proved to no advantage to the opposing team before the play came towards the Weiler goal, and Lomas between the sticks was called upon to make some good saves, which he did. With about fifteen minutes to go, the league leaders came back strong, determined to get into the lead, which they eventually did. After pressing the Garrison goal heavily they were awarded a corner kick. Harper took the kick, the ball sailed along in the air just about six inches under the crossbar, and Waggett, the Garrison net custodian, in endeavoring to fist the shot out, put the ball into his own net, and the tally which gave Weiler's the game had been chalked up. For the remainder of the game things were fairly even, with neither team doing any additional scoring. For the winners, Lomas in goal, and Copas at back, were easily the stars of their team, while with the Garrison, Waggett in goal, and Spiers at back, played good football. Oliver refereed, and the teams took the field as follows:

Weiler's—Lomas; Copas and Newman; Hall, Sweeton and Baker; Harper, Stewart, Hay, Peden and Hall.

Garrison—Waggett; Waggett and Spiers; Mitchell, Davies and Ward; Cummings, Bins, Coulter, Hueseleton and Grieve.

CANADIAN BOXER WINS

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Soldier Jones, the Canadian pugilist, defeated Ken McLaglen, of Chiswick, last night at Shepherd's Bush, London, in a scheduled 20-round bout, which ended in the fifth round with McLaglen's retirement. It was a very one-sided contest from the start.

ARRESTED HERE FOR PASSING CHEQUES

Man Detained by Police on Charge of Issuing Bogus Paper to Duncan Merchants

Robert R. Wright, charged with having passed a couple of worthless cheques at Duncan on Tuesday, was arrested here yesterday afternoon by Detective Caldwell and placed in the lockup. He will be taken to Duncan this morning to face arraignment in the police court there.

According to Wright's story, one of the cheques was for first payment on some land at Duncan and he intended to return to that town yesterday afternoon. He was boarding an automobile when arrested. He says that he came here from New Mexico.

tlement would be straightened out, no matter what an injustice that might be to the taxpayers of the Province. He went on to outline the start made with settling the returned soldiers and of how, at a meeting held at Ottawa in 1918, between the Provincial Premiers and representatives of the Federal Government, the idea prevailed with the Government to get rid of the returned soldiers at the earliest opportunity. He, the Premier, had spoken against such a policy outlined by the acting Premier, Sir Thomas White, and had expressed the opinion that from the amount of the last Victory Loan of $687,000,000 they could have adequately settled these soldiers. The Ottawa Government, he claimed, had tried to get away from its responsibilities, and had shipped to British Columbia 23,000 more men than had enlisted from this Province. The Department of Industries was put up as a temporary measure while the men from the Empress of Asia came to the Legislature failing assistance from Ottawa.

These soldiers, explained Mr. Oliver, had chosen the land at Merville. For partisan purposes, members of the opposition had gone into this area to belittle the Government's efforts and, stated the Premier, "It was a scandal and shame for any public men to make the position of these men at Merville more difficult."

Had Treated Them Well

Quoting figures of the assistance given to certain settlers in the area, Premier Oliver exclaimed:

"I challenge the member for Kaslo, or any other member, that we have not given good treatment to these men far in excess of that of Ottawa or any other province."

Colonel Lister—I'll tell him when my turn comes on.

Premier Oliver stated he had been advised that Mr. Bowser had promised the Merville settlers that until a deputation from the area had first visited the Premier, he, Mr. Bowser, would not deal with the question.

This Mr. Bowser denied, although the Premier came back with a rejoinder that he had been so informed.

Turning to Mr. Bowser's claim that eighty to ninety per cent of the loans made to industries would prove a failure, Mr. Oliver referred to the Western Canada Cordage plant at New Westminster, which was making a success, while the Sidney Roofing concern was working night and day. A mill at Quesnel had been loaned money to cut timber for the P. G. E. and the loan had been repaid.

Mr. John McRae, Yale—Why not reduce the taxes on the farmers and put them on the high salaried men?

Premier Oliver—Will you support me on that?

Mr. McRae—Sure.

Premier Oliver—Then I've got you where I want you. You had a different view last year. I'm not new at the political game. If I did not know what stand you are going to take I would not be here long.

Voices from the opposition—You will not be here long.

Railway Question

Turning to the railway situation, Premier Oliver denied Mr. Bowser's statement that the railway policy of the McBride Government had not cost the Province one cent. He referred to the Pacific Great Eastern, and claimed that Mr. Bowser had paid the first installment on its bonds during the election of 1916 although he had not told the people so.

Then followed the reading of the private and confidential letter from Mr. Bowser to the late Premier Brewster which has already been reported in the press on various occasions.

Asking for the letter, Mr. Pooley inquired whether the Premier was consistent in preventing the publication of secret service work while at the same time disclosing confidential letters.

Heatedly, Premier Oliver replied that the reason of the divulging of the contents of the letter was because Mr. Bowser had broken the agreement in the letter following the death of Premier Brewster, and with the document in his possession he had felt compelled to make it public.

Mr. Sam Guthrie—What about my resolution asking for a special committee of inquiry to investigate charges?

Premier Oliver—The Speaker rules it out of order.

Mr. Guthrie—Yes; I noticed it suited you all right.

Premier Oliver—Certainly. I would have voted against it. If a member wants to make a charge against a minister or a member, let him make it from his seat and it will be dealt with. I am not going to accept statements of a disreputable paper. This same paper alleged that the Sullivan report cost $25,000 when as a matter of fact it only cost $5,000.

University Situation

Turning to the University question and the allegation that the caucus ruled in this case, the Premier asked if it was good policy for the ratepayers of British Columbia, year by year, to provide thousands of dollars for the salaries of University professors. Mr. Oliver took issue with Dr. McKechnie, chancellor of the University of British Columbia, in a recent statement to the press, and claimed that if the Government is going to provide the money for this University it was going to see how the money was spent. The Government must have control of the expenditure.

"I say that so far as the Government is concerned with education, it is its first duty to take care of the common schools. If there is justification for charging fees to pupils in the Normal schools, then there is all the more justification for charging fees to University students," said the Premier, who referred to petitions circulated urging that work be proceeded with on the University structures, and he said that if the people who signed those petitions had appreciated the fact that for every student at the University there were ninety who were forced to pay the poll tax, perhaps they would not have been so ready to sign.

With heightened voice the Premier asserted it was costing $400 per year for each student attending the University. Many were there putting on "finishing touches" and never expected to use the training secured in their ordinary course of life. For them the University training was something beautiful, an accomplishment. He was not decrying a University training, and was glad he had been able to give such to each of four sons, but he was prepared to say that the man or woman whose university training forms part of the equipment for earning a living should contribute materially to the cost of that training.

Election Propaganda

The Premier denied the suggestion from the opposition side that the legislation passed in 1920 for University purposes was part of election propaganda. He stated that the $100,000 then spent on clearing lands on the University site had not been authorised until after the date of the election, and had been authorised to assist in meeting the then prevailing unemployment problem.

On the question of unemployment, Premier Oliver stated the governments and municipalities had decided the doles system would be eliminated and an able-bodied man must give full value. Putting the Point Grey lands on the market this coming Winter would materially assist in solving the problem.

"And I want to say that so far as possible there shall be full value secured for the money expended," declared the Premier.

The necessity of filling up the vacant places of the Province with a virile type of settler was emphasized by the Premier, who held that too large a proportion of the Province's population is located in the congested centres. He was not in favor of unlimited immigration. But in transplanting the people from the congested areas to the land was a work of humanity and the Province invited those people to come. But Canada was not a country like an orange, to be sucked and then thrown away.

"We want a population tied to the land, that their interests will be there. The Dominion is co-operating with the Imperial authorities to work out a plan and the Western Canada Colonization is spending a million on the same object," he said.

"The policy of British Columbia should be to encourage only settlers who have a reasonable amount, sufficient to start them in their new life; who will not be a burden. We have ample space, and the policy of the Government should be to encourage that type of settler," said the Premier, who apologised for the time he had taken in making his speech, but stated that while many of the matters he had dealt with were not worthy of the attention of the members, yet it was because of the criticism directed against him and the Government that he had dealt with them.

"It would be much better for this country if we had more work and less talk in this House," concluded the Premier.

Mr. Thomas Pearson, Conservative member for Richmond, moved the adjournment of the debate.

FORMER PREMIER REVIEWS BATTLE

made up as equitably as may be, and it is clear that no readjustment of that sort could prevent what happened this year.

Minority Vote Inevitable

"Where there are three or even four parties contesting for a single seat, as happened in many counties and boroughs in the recent election, it is inevitable that a number will frequently be elected by a minority of the votes. By this method, as Mr. Lloyd George admits with seeming inadvertence, the Labor Party won several seats. Doubtless the Conservatives won more, but the principle is the same. And unless Mr. Lloyd George proposes some root and branch reforms his complaint about the unequal and unfair results in last Wednesday's voting will not help him much in England. It is no more to the advantage of a public man there than it is here to expose himself as a bad loser.

Superfluous Warning

"More interesting is Mr. Lloyd George's forecast of the future of English parties and policies. He warns the government against any rash new departures. This would seem to be superfluous, since the new Premier has intimated nothing of the kind and, in fact, has as good as promised the people freedom from meddling legislation.

Surprising Confession

"For an old and skilled politician Mr. Lloyd George makes the rather surprising confession of the fact that the election caught him unawares. Speaking of his followers, he says that no party was ever placed in a more embarrassing and even desperate situation. The Conservatives had command of ample funds and a great political organization. The Labor Party was ready and eager for the fray. But the National-Liberal leaders, says Mr. Lloyd George 'innocently were too preoccupied with great world affairs to be able to devote any time to the improvisation of an effective new organisation.'

Struggle on Hopefully

"Almost pathetically, for so experienced a campaigner, Mr. Lloyd George recalls the unprecedented enthusiasm which greeted him wherever he went during the campaign, but sadly notes that somehow the acclamation was not converted into electoral power. Still, he thinks that National Liberals did amazingly well under the adverse conditions which they had to face. His counsel is that they struggle on hopefully until the day comes for the rising tide to bear them back to influence and office.

"Electorally, Liberalism is the balance power, he says, and were it to cast its united strength against either reaction or subversion, its influence would be decisive."

Mr. Lloyd George declares that he is not complaining in regard to his treatment at the hands of the electors, but offering an explanation. He intimated that the election came as a surprise to him. The Times finds this an astonishing statement for an old and skilled politician.

Late Premier's Forecast

One of the most interesting features of the statement, The Times declares, is Mr. Lloyd George's forecast of the future working of the parties in the House. Admitting that the progressive minds are not confined to the Liberal Party, he suggests that in this parliament, if the limits are not too narrowly drawn, there may be an effective association of the men of many parties who are genuinely concerned in the advancement of mankind along the paths of peace and progressive for the attainment of their common ideals. In his discussion of the future The Times sees a warning against new and rash departures.

The final point which The Times deals with editorially is Mr. Lloyd George's counsel to his followers. He points out that National Liberals hold twice the number of seats which the Independent Liberals had in 1918, and now for the first time have the full opportunity for placing their case and point of view before the country and organising support. It is their duty to do so, he asserted, and expresses the view that every month will contribute its justification for the course they have pursued, and for the counsel they have steadfastly given to a country struggling through abnormal difficulties.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL WINS RUGBY MATCH

Scores Overwhelming Victory Over Oak Bay High School by Twenty-Seven to Nil

A rugby match in the school (under sixteen) league was played yesterday afternoon at Cranmore Road between the University Military School and the Oak Bay High School, which resulted in a win for the University fifteen by 27 points to nil.

For the first ten minutes the High School pressed and it looked as though a good game would eventuate, but the University forwards then settled down to work and for the rest of the game the military school team had matters pretty much their own way. Their threequarters also showed good signs of combination work, although at times their passing was somewhat faulty.

The score at half-time was 11 to nil. The score was made up of three goals and four tries, Pollard being successful in converting three of the tries from which goals resulted. Willis and Fell were the most conspicuous players for the High School and on the University Military School side Ward II, Pollard I, Owston, Pollard II among the forwards and Wenman and Beatty, of the backs, played good football. NIGHTS ARE FINE, SO FISH LOITER ABOUT

Herring Bask on Pacific Instead of Rushing Into West Coast Fishermen's Nets

The beautiful weather which has made this Autumn one of the most enchanting seasons ever experienced in this Province is, however, largely to blame for the fact that the steamer Haleric, now loading herring in Barclay Sound, will lose approximately one thousand tons of the cargo for which she was booked.

It is generally acknowledged that the herring have been three weeks late in coming to the waters of the Coast. The wonderfully clear weather, with its starlit sky, has kept the fish out in the waters of the Pacific longer than usual. The catch has therefore been very small up to date, and fishing men have found themselves unable to fill the orders. The steamer Haleric will in all probability have to sail with a thousand tons booked space unfilled.

Like the salmon, the herring run to the Coast in a most capricious way, C. A. Calkins, herring exporter, of Vancouver, says. Even the most experienced fishers have found it useless to predict their movements, and chiefly rely upon the weather. Thus, the beginning of September, with a few foggy days and rainy nights, indicates that an early run could be expected. The sudden change to clear days and bright sky also changes the prospects of the herring catch, and contracts which were entered into during the early days of September will with considerable difficulty be filled.

Mr. Calkins reports that at the company's plant in Barclay Sound the daily catch is increasing lately, having reached the mark of 75 to 125 tons.

The export of herring from British Columbia to China almost disappears in the vast population of that country. If, for instance, the total annual export of herring was distributed to the whole Chinese population, every Chinese man, woman and child would receive one herring and a half. "That would not keep them going very long, would it?" Mr. Calkins said. The very lowest export price for salt herring is four cents a pound.

The Time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the Drydock at any tide, add 18.0 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

DOROTHY GISH IN SERIOUS FILM ROLE AT CAPITOL MONDAY

For the first time in years, Miss Dorothy Gish, one of the most popular movie stars and comediennes, is playing a serious role with plenty of heart interest and emotional feeling. In D. W. Griffith's motion picture epic, "Orphans of the Storm," a United Artists release, coming to the Capitol Theatre, she has the celebrated part of the blind girl, Louise, the same that was played for thirty years by Kate Claxton in the stage play "The Two Orphans." In Mr. Griffith's elaboration of the story, it is said, Miss Gish is a splendid partner for her sister, Lillian Gish, who assumes the role of the foster sister, Henriette.

Miss Dorothy, not so long ago, left a life of single blessedness to become the bride of James Rennie, a well-known actor. They are great chums. When Mr. Rennie recently was obliged to go to Los Angeles to take a part in a picture there was nothing to do but to have a daily telephone talk, transcontinental charges be what they might! The younger Gish sister explains the change of her movie activities thus:

"When I was young and lonesome and unmarried and felt really tragic, I relieved my sadness by playing soubrette parts like the Little Disturber in 'Hearts of the World.' Now, I am happily married, gay care-free as a lark. Don't you see the other side of my nature demands a little attention and therefore my stage studio life must be one of pathos?"

CHARLES JONES IN "TROOPER O'NEIL"

Columbia Presents the Popular Star in a Royal Northwest Mounted Police Story

Who has read a story of the Northwest Mounted Police without feeling the thrill of their courage and indomitable will? These men who go out to the distant forests and plains to keep order and uphold the law, generally go alone among men who are unfriendly, if not hostile. Through intense cold, fierce storms, and the myriad dangers of the trail, men of the mounted push on to carry through their appointed tasks. These tasks usually call for the risk of life in bringing outlaws to justice. The law must be vindicated and toll must be taken from those who wilfully destroy human life.

This is the kind of outdoor tale that William Fox presents in "Trooper O'Neil," starring Charles Jones. It was written by George Goodchild, the well-known fiction author, who has contributed other stories to the screen. The picture has been received very favorably wherever shown. Charles Jones' ability as an actor has long been recognised by the most discriminating picture followers.

Intertwined with the swift action of the photodrama is a finely developed love theme—but it's not of the "mushy" brand.

"Trooper O'Neil" will be shown at the Columbia Theatre for the balance of the week.

ROYAL VICTORIA Sadie Doyle was a specialist in men. She knew them as an aviator knows his machine control or a banker knows the money market. They were her stock in trade. Trapped in a big raid, Sadie faced the most difficult situation of her career. The rest of the gang were in handcuffs with policeman guarding every door and window. It looked hopeless. No! There was just a glimmer of a chance. One of the men at the far window was a tall, handsome chap. For some reason his face seemed familiar. He was standing apart from the others watching the scene with keen eyes. With the soft step of a panther the woman was at his side. She whispered something in his ear—words that never before had failed. He turned and their eyes met. A long second, while Sadie's heart pounded with alternate hope and fear. Was she winning—losing? Slowly the man unbuttoned his cuff and pulled back his sleeve. Sadie clapped her hand over her mouth to stifle a scream as her eyes widened in fear. She knew that the game was up for her. It is one of the big dramatic moments in Thomas H. Ince's "Skin Deep" at the Royal Theatre again today.

CAPITOL THEATRE What would ye modern Lochinvar do these days if he had to call in a gentleman's hairdresser to comb his jet black tresses every time he wanted to call upon his lady love? Yet that's exactly what happened during the reign of King Louis XIII. And that's also exactly what happened to Douglas Fairbanks every morning during the filming of "The Three Musketeers," this week's feature at the Capitol Theatre. As D'Artagnan, hero of this famous Alexander Dumas' story, Doug is all dressed up a-la-seventeenth-century, in long hair, knee pants, high boots and long sword. The work of getting into this regalia has caused him to appreciate and recommend modern garb vera vera much. "I don't see how they did it," he said, comparing modern styles with those of bygone days. "How any man could take two valuable hours out of a day to saddle himself into such clothes is too deep for me. And an hour to comb a wig!" The man who did the heavy work on the Fairbanks' haircombing job is Zan Zak, professional hair dresser and wig maker. For an hour each day he fussed with Doug's wig to get the kinks out of it. The first time Doug had to stand for this it was almost necessary to tie him down. Finally, this difficulty was somewhat overcome by first placing the wig on the head of a wax dummy and doing the preliminary work there.

DOMINION THEATRE The day is often big with accomplishments in motion pictures. For example, Philip Rosen, directing Rodolph Valentino in "The Young Rajah," mobilized an army of several hundred extra men, dressed them in the costumes of ancient warriors of Hindu mythology, took them out to a mountain location near Chatsworth, Cal., and in one day drilled them for battle and staged a mammoth battle spectacle, which serves as a colorful vision episode in the picture, which will be shown at the Dominion all this week. The scenes are fantastic in the extreme, and represented the legend of the battle of the Arjuna, the mortal brother of Krishna, the Hindu god of love, with earthly influences. His battle is against his father and brothers, who are tyrants over the people and even seek to slay Arjuna, righteous leader of his people. Inspired by Krishna, however, Arjuna slays his kinsmen and puts his hordes to rout, then receives as a reward from Krishna, the divine gift of foretelling the future. Amos Judd, the modern hero of the story, is supposedly a descendant of Arjuna, and possesses that same gift. The visionary legend is introduced to show how Amos Judd came to possess this strange power.

WOMEN OF FRANCE TO BATTLE FOR FRANCHISE

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The women of France will keep on fighting for the suffrage, in spite of the action of the senate in sidetracking a vote on the question indefinitely, leaders of the suffrage movement declared today. It will be won here as in every other civilized country.

LOCAL PRODUCTION SHOULD PROVE SNAPPY

"Stepping High" Company Having Final Touches at Rehearsals For Next Week

This week the finishing touches are being worked out in connection with "Stepping High," the big musical revue that is to be staged at Pantages Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday as a benefit for Billy Muir. A lot of faithful work has been put in by those taking part. The high stepping character is now being infused into the numbers.

A peep in on the rehearsal revealed a busy group of willing workers, determined to give Victorians a real treat next week. The Floradora number combines with artistic singing some novel features, not the least acceptable of which should be the clever, humorous female impersonation of a local young man.

It is in the cabaret scene, however, that the real opportunity for "Stepping High" comes into play, and the big company taking part in that section are certainly showing a readiness to make it snappy. Closing with the singing of "In Bohemia," with Mrs. Shephard taking the solo part, the cabaret company are throwing a wealth of abandon into the scene, which should be one of the attractions of the programme.

The Persian scene lends itself to a wealth of spectacular effects with its harem and dancing girls. The talented Madame Valda takes a pretty part in this act, and it goes without saying, takes it well.

In addition to her own share in the performance, her training is shown in the dancing numbers that are introduced, both in this and in the cabaret. Two of her most talented little pupils will appear in these two numbers, and their contribution will be a revelation to Victoria theatregoers.

Madame Valda's careful and artistic training is everywhere in evidence in its production. Mrs. W. 9G. Foss, as general director, is completing the details, while Mr. M. L. Smith acts as supervisor of the singing.

The programme for "Stepping High" will be as follows:

Act one, scene one—Merry Widow dances, by officers of Work Point Barracks; Hula, Hula, dance and song, George Petch and chorus; Floradora dance and song, Mr. Buckle, Mr. Dunn and chorus. Scene two—"My Dream Girl," Mr. Taylor, Mr. Smith; "Irish Song," Mrs. Brown.

Act two, scene one — Opening chorus, "Indiana," Mr. Smith, Mr. Petch and chorus; cabaret entertainers, comic song, Mr. Impet; "Love's Lament," Miss Morehead; violin solo, Miss Carter; vocal duet, Miss Morshead, Mr. V. Jones; jay dancer, Miss M. Graham; "Bohemia," Mrs. T. G. Shephard and chorus.

Intermission.

Act three, scene one—Song, "Smilin' Thro," Miss Burr and dancers; hunting dance, Mr. McCready; Spanish dance, Madame Valda; glowworm dance, Miss Rogerson and dancers; ballet des joir, Miss Phyllis Bettridge.

Act four—song, and piano, Miss Laddie Watkis; "A Dream," song, Mr. Vaughin Jones.

Act five—"Loves of Persia," cast and chorus.

"God Save the King."

Mr. Kennedy Leaves Hospital

WEEK'S SHOW IS CREDIT TO CITY

Patrons of Playhouse Have Additional Cause to Be Proud of the Hincks Company

The Hincks players are indeed to be congratulated upon the programme which they are providing for the Victoria public at the Playhouse this week. Show Number Eight, which commenced its run last week, continues to hold the boards, and to view it is to realize that Victoria is enviably fortunate in possessing such talent among its own citizens.

The big feature of the bill is the potted comic opera, "The Balkan Princess," a colorful production abounding in alluring music delightfully rendered, sufficient plot to give an element of mystery and suspense, and comedy that set last night's house a-rocking.

The popular Bob Webb appears to great advantage in the part of Aaron Brightstein, who keeps the audience in roars of laughter over the varied problems of himself and his daughter (Miss Peggy Lewis) in grappling with the question of being "somebody vat they ain't." In the Yiddish character Bob has certainly found a key to the laugh coffers of the public.

While the comedy is a strong feature, the musical numbers are, as has been the case with past Playhouse shows, proving strong favorites with the audiences.

The fact that Miss Eva Hart and Maria Hale are playing leading roles in "The Balkan Princess" is sufficient hint of musical excellence. They are heard together in several duets as well as in individual numbers, "Dreaming" being particularly enjoyed.

Reginald Hincks, Jack Gillan, Marie McLaughlin, Lorna Greenshields, Eileen Allwood and Frank Allwood compose the remainder of the cast for the potted opera.

Stage Settings and Costumes

It would not be fair to omit appreciative comment on the stage settings and costumes used in "The Balkan Princess." On a terrace outside an inn overlooking the village in the valley, with the mountain peaks for background, the first scene is set. When the curtain rises on the second act night has come to the valley, where the lights of the dwellings are seen to twinkle. The terrace is gaily lighted with colored lanterns, and picturesque costumes are worn by the company. Contrasting with this scene is the last, showing the interior of the court, with the gowns of the ladies and the uniforms of the men in keeping with the environment.

Show Number Eight opens with choruses by the company, a number of old-time songs being rendered. Then comes a sparkling contribution by the comedienne, Miss Peggy Lewis, in the song, "Keep Your Weather Eye On Me."

A delightful feature of the programme is the very charming playing of the young violiniste, Miss Irene Bick, who was much applauded last evening after her appealing rendering of the "Mazurka Kuyawiha," which was followed as an encore by "Mighty Like a Rose," played on the mute. There is much taste and refinement in Miss Bick's tone, and although she is practically self-taught, she has a peculiar gift for technique as well as interpretation, double-stopping and harmonics both being required in the rendering of the first number. Mrs. Clifford Warn's accompaniments were most sympathetic.

SAYS VICTORIA CAN REPLACE HOLLYWOOD AS PICTURE CENTRE

To bring Hollywood to Victoria and make this city the headquarters of the world's motion picture business is the objective announced yesterday by Mr. J. A. "Five Points" Shanks, who is running for alderman at the December election.

Mr. Shanks, who claims to have an intimate knowledge of the fundamentals of moving picture production as a result of his acting career in the California movie metropolis, says the reputation acquired by Hollywood in connection with the "high jinks" of moving picture celebrities is being looked upon as undesirable by the money interests that back the film enterprises.

"Unsavory events of somewhat recent occurence are affecting thousand of box office receipts and holding in the studios many expensive celluloid stories that should now be out making good money for the producers," statee Mr. Shanks, in a campaign brochure. He goes on:

Concerns Moving Out

"One large concern, that I know of, is preparing to abandon Hollywood, and is now building an immense plant in Portland, Oregon. The object is to get a fresh start under new and less notorious surroundings, with the hope or reinstating its products into the good graces of the movie patron.

"Hollywood as a film centre is on the decline.

"Of the many industries that Victoria can offer attractive inducements to, the making of motion pictures easily comes first. We have beautiful scenery, wildwood and artistic homes. We have tall timbers, deep ravines and mountain passes. We have ocean waves, sandy beaches and nestling cove. We have magnificent legislative halls, fine streets and lofty business blocks. We have ships, sailors and salmon trolling. We have attractive hotels and fine churches. We have landmarks of the ancient days and many noticeable examples of modern architecture. We have orchards, flowers and wonderful shrubbery. We have the greatest observatory in the world and one of the most extensive of solid concrete breakwaters in existence.

Sunshine as Asset

"But above all we have more sunshine, by far, than any other Coast city, and our climate is such that practically no delay should be experienced in picture making the year round.

A little encouragement, properly directed, might lead to inducing one of the really worth-while movie magnates to look Victoria over and settle here. If such could be accomplished we would not only add a very substantial payroll to our community, but it might prove the nucleus for an enterprise of extremely large proportions.

MR. BOWSER COMPLAINS

On Question of Privilege, Protests Against Statement Appearing in Vancouver Paper

Protest against the statement contained in an article in The Vancouver World, which purported to set forth that at a recent session of the Public Accounts Committee, before which Opposition members are seeking to probe into the affairs of the Liquor Board, he had stated that the Vancouver Club had paid about $2,000 into the liquor vendor's store there for beer within a month, was made on the floor of the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. W. J. Bowser, K.C., Opposition leader.

Mr. Bowser quoted from a telegram which had reached him denying the statement.

"I have been in this House for the past twenty years and I have never had occasion to criticise the members of the press," he said, as he referred to reports appearing in The World as extreme. He stated he had never made any such statement as The World credited him with, and he appealed to Mr. Speaker to deal with the matter either by retiring The World representative or otherwise.

After Mr. Bowser made his statement in the House the original press dispatch as filed here was looked up at the telegraph office, when it developed that it correctly quoted Mr. Bowser's statement. It stated that "a Vancouver club" had secured the beer. The World story had it "The Vancouver Club," which is the leading institution of its kind in the Terminal City. The mistake, of course, put a wholly different meaning upon the Opposition leader's charge before the Public Accounts Committee.

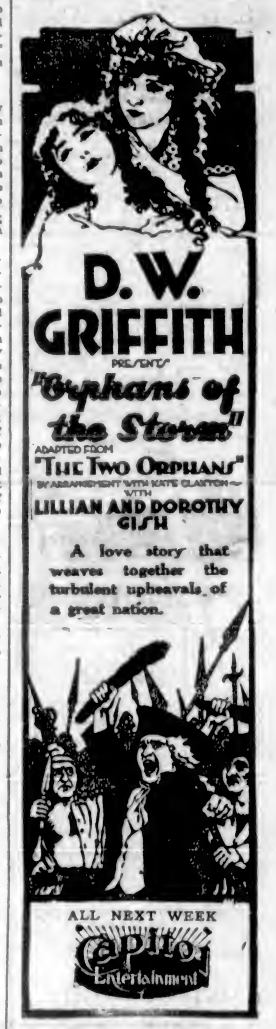

LEAVING MAZATLAN

The Pacific Salvage Company were notified by wire yesterday that the salvage steamer Algerine, convoying the salved vessel Guerrero, is leaving Mazatlan for San Pedro perhaps today, but in any event by Saturday. She is due back in Victoria by December 10.

SAILORS ENTERTAIN PEOPLE OF COMOX

Mayor of Courtenay Welcomes Guests and Concert and Dance Enjoyed by Big Crowd

COURTENAY, Nov. 21. — Reminiscences of the splendid entertainment presented to Comoxians by the concert party of H. M. S. Aurora last year brought out a crowded house last night to enjoy a meritorious programme carried out by the sailor boys of H. M. S. Capetown in the Gaiety Theatre. Never has a larger audience attended an event in the popular playhouse, and every number was thoroughly enjoyed. Capt. E. Lloyd, leader of the Boys' Naval Brigade movement in the Valley, on behalf of whom the concert was put on, was master of ceremonies. Before the programme began, Mayor Simms delivered an address of welcome and closed by asking the audience to give the visitors a good time at the dance to follow.

The first number on the programme was a banjo duet by V. C. P. O. Hornbrook and S. P. O. McKenzie, who had to respond to a well-merited encore. A comedy skit, "The Two Roamers," put on by A. B. Foy and Telegraphist Paul, was full of what it was meant to carry, and the comic song by Cooper Wiggins was well presented. He also was forced to respond to an encore. A novelty in entertainment here was the three-round sparring exhibition between "Tug" Wilson, ex-champion lightweight of the North Atlantic fleet, and Seaman Dring, his sparring partner. Songs by P. O. Heales and Pte. Ward were most enjoyable. The comedy duo presented by Ptes. Ward and Tulip, R.M.L.I., was extremely amusing, their puns and jokes being well received. An exhibition of cutlass swinging by Pte. Baker, R. M. L. I., was perhaps the best that has been seen here since the old days of the navy at Comox, and it is doubtful if anything of the sort has ever surpassed the display made by last night's performer. He received generous applause. The show was brought to a close by the comedy duo in "Capetown Queries," and the singing of the National Anthem. The programme was in the hands of Leading Seaman Thornley and was splendidly arranged, there being no long waits between the acts. A dance followed, there being nearly one hundred men from the Capetown in attendance.

PECULIAR ACTION IN NANAIMO COURT

Correspondence Course in Law Involved in Case—Judge Finds for Defendant

NANAIMO, Nov. 22. — In the County Court yesterday His Honor Judge Barker gave decision in the suit of the Northwest Funding Co. and Rule vs. Mr. F. E. Bradner, the trial of which took place last September. This action was for $147, the contract price of a correspondence course in law, sufficient to enable Bradner to pass the B. C. examinations. Bradner, after signing the contract, refused to accept the law course, and had so notified the plaintiffs, and paid into court $15, which he claimed was sufficiet compensation for any breach. Plaintiffs refused to accept this, and the trial took place last September, judgment being reserved, counsel for both parties filing written arguments. Yesterday His Honor gave a lengthy written judgment holding that there was no consideration and dismissed the action with costs. Mr. V. B. Harrison appeared for plaintiffs and Mr. C. H. Beevor-Potts for the defendant.

LADYSMITH COUNCIL HOLDS BRIEF SESSION

Title to Property Principal Subject Discussed. Routine Business Disposed Of

LADYSMITH, Nov. 22.—The most-discussed matter before the council board last Monday evening was the recent real estate transaction between the council and Mrs. Axelson. Mrs. Axelson is now making application for a title to the property, which she took over some months ago from the council. After considerable discussion it was decided to postpone the question for final decision until Thursday evening next.

It was reported by the fire chief that nothing had yet been done with the several buildings condemned some time ago and ordered destroyed. The fire wardens gave further instructions to proceed with the destruction of the buildings.

The question of purchasing a new truck for the removal of garbage was laid over for further consideration.

Mr. William Ward wrote the council that the tenants in his building on the corner of First Avenue and Roberts Street had given up their lease, and he wanted the council to appoint a committee to meet him and discuss the proposal to lower his building to the street level. The following committee was appointed to confer with Mr. Ward: Messrs. Bryant, Knight and Walkem.

It was further ordered that the garbage collection by-law be strictly enforced.

In New Premises

LADYSMITH, Nov. 22.—Mr. Harry Amos will shortly occupy the main floor of the Jones Hotel Building as an auction and second-hand store, as well as the store in which he is at present carrying on his business. The Jones Hotel was recently acquired by Mr. Theodore Bryant and is being converted into a store.

CANNERY CLOSED

NANAIMO, Nov. 22.—The Nanaimo Cannery, owned and operated by the Nanaimo Canners & Packers, Ltd., has closed down after a most successful season, the company's output this year being 22,000 cases of salmon. While by no means equal to the output during the war, the cannery management is well pleased with this season's work, which exceeded expectations, the number of persons employed during the season being upwards of fifty.

CHEMAINUS HOSPITAL BENEFITS BY CONCERT

Woman's Auxiliary Assists in Procuring Needed Linen—Another Entertainment Planned

CHEMAINUS, Nov. 22.—Owing to a bad accident case at the local hospital, the Woman's Auxiliary held it monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Russell Robinson. A few weeks ag the auxiliary was notified of the shortness of linen at the hospital. A concert under the auspices of the auxiliary was given two weeks ago for the purpose of supplying this need and the sum of $34.75 was taken in. The expenses were $39.75, leaving the sum of $45. The auxiliary added $35 to that (which has left their bank account nil), and has bought some linen, but more is urgently needed, also crockery of all kinds, so the ladies hava decided to hold a card party on January 12, 1923, for the purpose. A heavy payment is due on the electric light, but owing to the kindness of Mr. E. J. Palmer, manager for the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company, this payment was allowed to stand over, so that cash in full could be paid for the X-ray machine which was installed at the hospital last May. At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. P. W. Anketell-Jones, president of the hospital board, whose kind help had made the recent concert a success.

NAVAL OFFICERS WERE GUESTS OF CITIZENS

Comox Scene on Monday Night of Festive Reunion Reminiscent of Days of Yore

COURTENAY, Nov. 21.—The Elk Hotel, Comox, was the scene last night of a social event that brought back memories of the days when Comox was a great naval base; days when there was almost always a unit of the Pacific squadron in the bay, and when no function was considered complete without the presence of the officers of the navy. Scenes of other days were re-enacted last night, when a complimentary dinner party, followed by a dance, was tendered to the officers of H.M.S. Capetown, which had been paying a five days' visit to Comox. It was the night before her departure for Vancouver, and many of the civilian population had accepted invitations to be present, among them being: Mr. and Mrs. Hargood Ash, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Brock, Mrs. F. R. F. Biscoe, Captain and Mrs. J. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cokely, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cooke, Mrs. G. B. Capes, Mrs. J. M. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Corfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. Eadie, Mr. B. L. Geidt, Miss Geidt, Captain and Mrs. K. G. Hailey, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holmes, Miss K. Holmes, Mr. S. Holmes, Mr. R. L. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. B. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Idiens, Mr. C. Idiens, Mr. S. S. Idiens, Mrs. D. Klipatrick, Captain and Mrs. F. G. Liddle, Miss J. Petter, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Pottinger, Mrs. Theed Pearse, Captain and Mrs. W. A. Richardson, Mrs. H. A. Stewart, Miss M. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Taylor, Mrs. E. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Osler and Mrs. S. B. W. d'Esterre.

The officers of the Capetown present were: Captain E. Roynon Jones, R.N., Commander G. W. Tait, Lieut.-Commander H. O. Joyce, Surgeon-Commander A. Bradbury, Paymaster-Commander H. H. Arnold, Lieut. J. D. Helm, Assistant-Paymaster H. H. Harvey, Midshipmen R. V. Armitage, J. G. P. Brownrigg, J. Milner-Gibson, N. L. Gooch, P. L. A. Love and G. H. Oswald; Warrant Officers A. H. Benfield, A. FARMERS ENDORSE ANTI-DUMPING CLAUSE

Number of Resolutions Placed Before Municipal Committee Dealing With Industry

In its final presentation before the Municipal Committee of the Legislature, the committee representing the Farmers' Institutes and the United Farmers of British Columbia, made recommendation that the provisions of the 1907 customs tariff and amendments in regard to special duty on dumping and the revesion in the tariff of anti-dumping clause of 1921 be effectively maintained, as the full and proper enforcement of the same is essential to the fruit and vegetable industry in British Columbia.

Additional Resolutions

Other resolutions laid before the committee asked:

That there should be more practical co-operation between the Provincial and Dominion fire wardens and the settlers in the issuance of permits for burning, and, where it is shown to be necessary, that the fire wardens should aid in the burning off slashing and roots, as settlers must aventually complete their burnings; and further, that a special course of instruction be given Forestry Department officials not only in preventing fire, but in firing.

Fire Fighting

That a more economical system of fighting fires be evolved.

That district agriculturists with permanent offices be appointed for those districts in which the need for them is apparent.

That the Government accept less than the whole of a year's taxes when it is offered, as residents of unorganized districts are sometimes only able to pay part of the levy at one time.

Definite System

That in view of the fact that there is much doubt existing as to the basis on which improved lands are taxed in the Province, the Government state its policy in regard to the assessment of such lands, and to establish a definite system that would create equitable taxation in all sections, and that the assessment should in no case exceed the value placed on the earning power of the land.

That the Attorney-General's office stop police officers or game wardens from halting automobiles at night by the use of an ordinary flashlight, on the grounds that it provides opportunities for hold-up men; and that, if some such practice must be used, a suitable electric signalling device not easily duplicated be provided officers.

Water Act Provisions

That, in view of the fact that while the present Water Act appears to affect certain rights adversely, the joint committee had insufficient information to warrant it asking the Legislature to follow any specific course, the Legislative Committee to obtain data on the subject with a view to being in a position to deal with any specific requests which may be laid before the committee at the next session.

IF BACK HURTS TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if Kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS?

If not, let us show it to you today. We know that you will agree with us that it is one of the most charming homes in the vicinity of Victoria.

A proper description of this delightful spot is impossible, so we only try to set forth a few of the many features.

THERE is a modern, up-to-the-minute 6-roomed bungalow, quite new, and all in excellent condition. Contains several large open fireplaces, panelling, beamed ceilings, built-in effects—there's nothing missing. Well-built garage. Large wood-lined barn, at present used as a fruit packing house, but could be used for almost any other purpose. The property comprises over an acre of excellent land, all cleared, and containing one of the finest collections of fruit trees on the Island. The trees are all full bearing, plums, apples, pears, peaches, prunes, cherries and other varieties. The orchard alone has netted the owner as much as $700 to $800 a year, so that, as well as being a most delightful home, it is also a good revenue-producing proposition.

The owner is anxious to sell quickly, and has reduced the price accordingly. It's a snap for somebody.

Ask us for further particulars.

SPECULATORS HAMMER PRICES ON 'CHANGE

Small Operators Unload Canadian Exchange at Slight Discount for First Time Since September

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Speculators for the decline again rode on the top of today's stock market, bringing about more extensive liquidation of long stock and hammering prices down one to five points. Trading was again largely in the hands of professionals, but some of the selling came from disillusioned small operators and investors who had bought recently in the belief that a turn for the better was imminent.

Railroad shares, which heretofore had not been liquidated as freely as industrials, proved more vulnerable today, non-dividend paying stocks being especially weak in the afternoon reaction.

Investment issues also fell under the weight of the selling movement.

Steel shares offered a little resistance, although U. S. Steel commons broke below 103 and then rallied to 103⅝ for net loss of ⅝.

Call money held steady at five per cent throughout the day. Time money loans were made at 5 per cent for all maturities, only a limited amount being available for lending purposes. Commercial paper trading was moderately active, with no change in rates.

Exchanges Rally

Foreign exchanges opened easier and then rallied, demand sterling getting up to 4.49½ and French francs to 7.29.

Canadian exchange sold at a slight discount for the first time since the latter part of September.

There were several points of strength in today's early bond market, but free offerings of railroad mortgages, particularly the second grade issues, turned the whole list heavy, the volume of trading, however, being comparatively light. U. S. Government issues held firm, Liberty 3½'s jumping up 22 cents on $100 and the others showing only nominal changes.

Cuban Loan

Mexican 4's, Lyons 6's and Czecho-Slovakian 8's each yielded a point or so in the foreign list. Investors in foreign securities were interested in Havana dispatches indicating that bids for the proposed $50,000,000 Cuban loan would be opened next week and that four New York syndicates, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., Speyer & Co., Lee, Higginson & Co., and Blair & Co., would submit bids.

Total sales, par value, were $11,490,000.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22.—Considerable selling of cash wheat and cancellation of tonnage were factors in a decline in the November future on the local wheat market today. November closed 3 cents below yesterday's close. The May position was showing relatively more strength than the nearby positions, but all futures were on the downgrade. Coarse grains continued firm and prices were steady.

Inspections totalled 1,412 cars, of which 1,226 were wheat.

CITY'S TAXATION THEORIES AIRED

he would be prepared to present arguments against the proposal.

Shortt Report Quoted

Alderman Todd outlined the existing financial position of the city and quoted the Shortt report as to the likelihood, were taxation confined strictly to land, of the city facing a receivership.

Chairman Jackson stated that personally he believed the city should secure power to impose the tax.

"On behalf of the majority of the citizens I am here to oppose it," declared Alderman Woodward.

There was a lengthy discussion on the proposal to inaugurate a system of monthly payments of taxes, but the section as it appears in the bill was finally approved, after some minor changes were made.

Semi-Business Property

The section of the act designed to allow of an assessment of semi-business property which has not proved to be such, since the boom, and is rapidly reverting to the city, was explained by Alderman Todd. It is designed to prevent the city authorities increasing the assessment for taxation purposes at a rate of more than twelve and one-half per cent a year.

The section gave opportunity to Alderman Woodward and Alderman Leeming to again set forth their taxation theories, but finally the committee suggested it should be redrafted to make it apply only to property on which a structure of at least $2,000 in value was erected.

Alderman Todd insisted that unless some such system were inaugurated to induce owners to hold, the bulk of these properties would revert to the city, which would be unable to collect any revenue therefrom.

Have Lost Hope

"What do the owners think of their prospects," asked Mr. Thomas Pearson, member for Richmond.

"Most of them have lost hope," replied the alderman.

The question of the taxation of private hospitals was another contentious point which was dealt with after half an hour's discussion.

The committee agreed to accept the principle, but it was pointed out that the Municipal Committee of the House was averse to the proposal, which was one which would certainly be threshed out on the floor of the House. This being the case the committee decided to agree to it and leave it to the House to decide.

Private Hospital

Just what constituted a private hospital was a matter of varied views, but finally the broad principle enunciated in the Hospital Act, that a private hospital was one which does not receive Government assistance was accepted.

Mr. J. B. Clearihue stated that the Minister of Finance did not consider that one municipality should tax private hospitals unless all did so.

Alderman Leeming pointed to the bill the city is called upon to pay in connection with the Royal Jubilee Hospital, and he argued that the section in the bill was quite proper.

The question of St. Joseph's Hospital appeared to create some difference of opinion, though it was agreed that, while it was undoubtedly doing a good work, yet it came within the category of private hospitals. But that phase of the question, the members of the committee considered, could be left for the decision of the House.

WIFE ARRESTED FOR ATTEMPT TO MURDER

CALGARY, Nov. 22.—Zeta Mabel Harrison was arrested tonight charged with attempting to murder her husband, Fred E. Harrison, Dominion Fair Wage Officer. Harrison is in the general hospital with a bullet wound in his chest. His condition is not serious. The shooting took place in Harrison's office.

Stomach Trouble
"Indigestion"
Relieved by
Burdick Blood Bitters

The sufferer from dyspepsia, indigestion or other stomach troubles who has to pick and choose his food is the most miserable of all mankind.

Even the little that is eaten causes much torture, and is digested so imperfectly it does but little good.

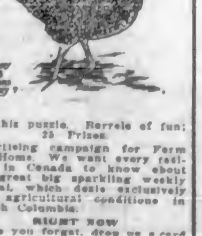

Before you can eat heartily and enjoy your food you must put your stomach right so that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

Mr. Wm. Kruschel, Morden, Man., writes:—"Some time ago I had quite a serious case of stomach trouble, indigestion. I could scarcely eat anything, outside of some light food, and even then I generally had pains after each meal. I tried many different medicines, but without any improvement, and had almost given up hope of ever being well. A neighbor recommended Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using it a short time I felt much better, so I continued to use it until I was completely relieved. I can honestly say that B. B. B. has done wonders for me after all other medicines failed."

B. B. B. is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

and children in prayer on the day of death (Good Friday)—thus was the German war, without respite, without pity. Why? Because Germany had another desire besides that of emerging from the combat with life and honor. She wanted to make a clean sweep around her. The day had dawned of all for all. It was not only necessary to conquer but to kill, destroy and raze the earth; as in the time of the great Germanic invasion designed to install a Teuton domination on the ruins of a "degenerate" humanity.

Peace of Reparations

We replied to this unchaining of fury with a peace of justice, of reparation, of moderation, reason, such as the world had never known. No war indemnity, no acquisition of territory—the raincorporation in French territory of the two dismembered provinces, reparation for damage done, the taking of guarantees permitting us to check the execution of the promises which Germany had made, the disarmament of Germany. That is all France desired to obtain from the terrible war that had been inflicted upon her. Better still, by the Peace of Versailles France and her Allies desired to inaugurate a new order for the settlement of international conflicts, one inspired by this double principle: "Reparation for wrong done and impossibility of a new war."

Unfortunately, the ills of a war like that of 1914-1918 are repaired but with difficulty. Even given the entire good faith of the conquered, if the latter, by conscientious labor, genuinely desired to help the world out of its sanguinary nightmare and back to a normal life, that world would none the less remain for a long time hopelessly adrift and at sea. We are assisting today at the prolongation of a war which is not even likely to approach a conclusion unless there is a new orientation of peace-time energy. Finances upside down, budgets artificially met, rates of exchange giving sixty-five francs to the pound and fourteen to the dollar, a terribly distorted fiduciary circulation, an ever-increasing cost of living, strikes, rapid changes in the stock markets, making commerce and industry impossible, accumulation of stocks, such is the reason of those four years of war. It was materially impossible that either for conqueror or conquered aught else should result from this world catastrophe than complete chaos for all. Rapidly rescrued equilibrium is beyond the bounds of human practicability. But it was earnestly to be desired, both for the honor and salvation of humanity, that, associated in war, nations should have remained as solidly in the execution of the treaty of peace as they had been in the conflict which procured it. For a people can die as easily from peace as from war. War and peace proceed at bottom from one and the same human impulse: the incessant struggle for existence and well-being. For that, it would have been necessary that the conditions, the methods of solidarity imposed by the war, should have continued in peace, and that, the last gun fired, people should not have restricted themselves to the keeping of an emotional memory of suffering endured in common.

Plea for Unity

There is not only "war." There is not only "peace." There are great peoples who should march shoulder to shoulder toward human realization of the ideal. Today, tomorrow, always, though the road will be long and rough leading toward hazardous ends and through unknown ways. Instead of that, and despite France's efforts to prevent it, we saw each one retake his liberty of action. No longer was there the solidarity of one great body which by its co-ordination and indissolubility had won the war. Only sharpshooters remained who in their craze for independence, out of what I shall call their national egotism, may easily come to lose the peace. France in 1914 was surrounded by allies who had recognized her good faith and her definitely pacific bent. In 1922 she is alone confronted by a threatening Germany—alone with her ruins, with her fifteen hundred thousand dead, her eight hundred thousand mutilated, her three million wounded, lands wasted because the war was fought on her territory, because she was for months of tragic uncertainty the rampart of the world, a rampart which if demolished would have left the whole world at the mercy of Germany. The war was fought on our territory because France happened to stand between the world and Germany. The world seems to forget that very easily.

France is isolated, with her finances in disorder, with her industries but slowly recovering from the turmoil, with a merchant marine disorganized by the war. She faces Germany who says: I will pay, and does not pay, because she was permitted to escape even commencing to pay when she was well in the position to do so. France is isolated for having since 1920 annoyingly counted on the automatic execution of a treaty, at the foot of which Germany, the President of the United States and England had signed, and without the strict application of which there is no hope for France for restoration. The will of the people won the war. The will of all was not less necessary for the establishment of peace. Instead, there was substituted chatter, with its inevitable procession of quarrels without issue.

False Charges

France in 1914 had grouped around her almost unanimously the other nations because she was recognized as sincerely desirous of peace. Today she is accused of wishing to continue the war in peace time. She is accused of wishing to introduce the argument of the sword into international conversations and to be dependent upon those same methods of force and intimidation which has gone to compose the Bismarckian peace. That, because confronted by a Germany that refuses to disarm, which will not execute the Treaty of Versailles or repair the damage done or rebuild the ruins made by her, before an ally which today refuses France the military guarantee which she offered yesterday. France does not wish to die. German brutality and bad faith, injustice from her allies, France will proudly bear her burden. France desires to live. France will survive. France never desired the war. She desires war less than ever today. Everything proves it. Length of military service reduced from three years to eighteen months, reduction of effectives and of military credits, a long list of concessions without end which she has unhappily consented to these past three years, concessions which her situation as a victorious and strong power permitted her to refuse, yet which her governments considered it their duty to accept in the interest of world peace. France does not wish for war because she has suffered more from the rule of force than any other nation, and because, whether conqueror or conquered, she would only come out of the conflict with new ruins. Her poor birth rate, her crippled finance, the tasks of reconstruction, waiting upon her, make France the last of countries which can dream to impose her will by force.

She contents herself with claiming what is her due. Mutilated as she is, she appeals for justice. It is not just that, having done everything, having suffered everything for forty-four years to maintain peace, that having been the object of the most hateful aggression of all times, that having had her soil ravaged, her towns destroyed, her children mowed down in millions, that having disastrously suffered the first shock of the invader with a heroism that saved the world; endurance, privations and sacrifices, and finally triumphed, that she should be condemned to suffer more in her triumph than Germany in her defeat.

ASKS ENACTMENT OF ANTI-DUMPING CLAUSE

side being dumped into Canada at less than the cost of production, and substituted a customs charge, or where it was found that dumping was being practiced, an order-in-council would be passed to remedy matters.

Cites Nelson Convention

Col. Lister considered that this legislation had not met the case. He had been informed that his resolution, or one similar to it, had been adopted at the recent Liberal convention held at Nelson. He had been expecting the Minister of Agriculture to introduce such a motion, for unless such assistance was sought from Ottawa the Province as a whole would suffer and the millions of public and private moneys would be at stake.

Quoting correspondence from a fruit growers' association in the Interior, Col. Lister stated that no less than 720 cars of fruit had passed through Kingsgate from the Wenatchee district of Washington State this year, and such traffic was still going on at the rate of from ten to twelve cars per day.

The growers in the Interior do not know what they are going to get for the 1922 crop. It had been shipped on consignment from the Creston area, while in some instances the growers found themselves so hard up for finances that they were unable to finance the pickers.

Serious Situation

A fruit growers' association stepped in and told the growers the union would finance the pickers, but now the latter have been informed that prices were so low that they had better take the fruit and finance the pickers.

According to the United Farmers' local at Erickson, the gross price obtained last year was about $1.25 per box of apples, while the market this year had slumped to such an extent that the price will not exceed fifty cents par box, insufficient to pay harvesting and marketing expenses. Any member, explained Col. Lister, who opposed his motion would not be doing his duty to the Province, and especially the fruit growers of the Interior.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, adjourned the debate.

Defends Present System

Continuing the debate at the night sitting on the motion of Col. Lister ra the restoration of the anti-dumping clause, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, presented an amendment calling for the reference to the committee on agriculture to inquire into the allegations of damage suffered by the growers through inability to market their fruit.

The Minister quoted from Hansard to show what Ottawa had done at the last session. Under an amendment then made to the Canada Customs Act, the Minister of Customs was given the fullest powers to determine what the value of production was for the purposes of duty. The former principle of actual cost plus a reasonable profit was foolish, as it was impossible to differentiate between grades and place a valuation on them, said the Minister of Agriculture. Now the principle was to determine the basis on which values would be fixed, and these would depend upon the condition and interest of the Canadian producer as the primary factors to be taken into consideration.

Protection Personified

"You cannot get a stronger measure of protection than that," said the Minister, who quoted the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen as stating in the Ottawa House that the provision was "protection personified."

On the point of the absurdity of seeking the cost of production of an article at the place of production, Hon. Mr. Barrow stated that recently a survay of 130 dairy farms was mada to discover the cost of production of butter fat, and that survey showed prices varied from 70 cents to over $2 a pound, while the average price was $1.06. In 1921 the average price paid to producers was 62 1-2 cents.

Better Protected

The fruit industry of British Columbia, declared the Minister, was deriving more protection under the recent change than it ever had under the old anti-dumping clause. Only about ten cars of United States apples had reached the Prairie markets last year, he said, while the growers of British Columbia had shipped over 300 cars to New York, and that the standard duty is less on apples entering the States than on those from the States into Canada. The Minister argued that the salvation of the growers in British Columbia was co-operation and combination, with their marketing done through one central body or organization rather than the system adopted by many of them of shipping their products on consignment. It was not a matter of over-production, he said, but of inefficient distribution.

Mr. Barrow thereupon moved his amendment. Mr. W. A. McKenzie moved the adjournment of the debate.

anese and Chinese in the Province. The department was satisfied that these figures had materially increased since that date.

Japanese in Small Fruit

In connection with small fruit, 4,500 acres were under cultivation, of which the Japanese controlled 3,341 acres, all of which, claimed Hon. Mr. Barrow, added to the problem facing the marketing of this fruit. In truck farming the Chinese predominated, owning 1,632 acres and leasing 3,184, as against 281 owned by Japanese and 516 acres leased. Ninety per cent of the supply of truck produce shipped into Vancouver was grown by Orientals, while fifty-five per cent of the entire potato crop of British Columbia was grown by these Asiatics.

It was time to take a stand, claimed the Minister, who pointed to inroads in the Victoria district by Orientals in the matter of producing hothouse fruit and vegetables. It was probably impossible to dispossess these Orientals of the land they now possess, but the motion aimed at by Capt. Mackenzie was to prevent them from acquiring more.

The Orientals were particularly active on the north shore of the Fraser River, but the danger also existed in the Sumas district, claimed the speaker. In his district of Chilliwack a kind of gentlemen's agreement existed whereby the Orientals were kept away.

Canon Hinchliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, claimed there had not been a single note of explanation by the mover of the resolution when introducing the motion.

Mr. F. W. Anderson, Liberal member for Kamloops, adjourned the debate.

SAANICH JITNEY TROUBLE

A further prosecution in the series recently initiated by the Saanich police, in the matter of anforcing the municipal by-law against unlicensed jitney operation, was taken before Magistrate Jay yesterday, when David Pierce, of Borden Street, Saanich, was charged with operating an unlicensed jitney on North Quadra Street.

Evidence for the prosecution was adduced to show that the defendant had so operated.

Before calling the defence, Magistrate Jay said that he would remand the case until Judge Lampman had rendered a decision on the appeal recently taken in the County Court from a police court conviction on a similar charge.
